

Congressman Brown To Speak Here Friday Night

MAJOR ISSUES TO BE TAKEN UP AT GOP RALLY

Women's Glee Club and WHS Band To Take Part in Three-speaker Program

Fayette County Republicans today were polishing off plans for a rally at the high school auditorium Friday at 8 P. M. when they will unlimber their big guns for the final barrage of the campaign as party leaders were confidently predicting a sweeping victory at the polls next Tuesday.

On the firing line will be three main speakers to present all phases of the issues of the campaign now drawing to a close. Virgil Ferrill, chairman of the rally committee said in outlining the highlights and tentative order of the program.

Albertus Conn of Toledo, assistant state attorney general, is to discuss both national and state issues as they affect the colored people of Ohio, Perrill said. Conn was described as one of Ohio's leading colored attorneys and a fine public speaker.

Dean E. Stanley

Dean Stanley, who is recognized as one of southern Ohio's prominent and most able attorneys and whose reputation as an orator has spread throughout the middlewest, is to take up state issues primarily and national issues as they relate to state issues, Perrill said. Stanley's home is in Lebanon where he has practiced law since 1909, a native of Warren County, he served as its prosecuting attorney for two terms, starting in 1914. For the past twenty years he has campaigned extensively in the western part of the state, having spoken in support of GOP candidates from Defiance and Erie counties on the north to the Ohio River on the south. He is as well known in the big cities of that section of the state as in the small towns.

Hon. Clarence J. Brown, who represents this, the seventh Ohio district in the national Congress and is a candidate for reelection, probably will be the last speaker on the program, Perrill said. Well known here where he always has been given strong support at the polls, Rep. Brown is to devote his address in the main to national issues but is expected to stress those of greatest importance to the people of Ohio and farming sections such as Fayette County. Party leaders here express the belief that his interpretation and explanations of many vital government policies will be of deep interest.

The rally is to start, under present arrangements, with a concert on the Court House square by the high school band a little after 7 P. M. At the conclusion, the band is to head a parade timed to reach the high school in time for all to be seated before the start of the program. The

Mainly About People

Mrs. Robert Osborn and daughter, Ann, have moved from 336 East Street to the Cherry Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Baughn moved Tuesday from the Prairie pike to 216 E. Circle Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon, Jr., announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Joyce, in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Babb attended the Dispersal Sale of Scotch shorthorn at the Strawn Farms, north of Lima, Monday.

Miss Olive Marie Mann, who has been confined to her home by illness for the past three weeks, is showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kennedy (nee Juanita Kising) of Dearborn, Mich., announce the birth of a son, October 27, in the Henry Ford Hospital, at Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Milley (Mary Helen Reveal) of Greenfield, announce the birth of an eight and one-half pound son, Tuesday morning, in the Chillicothe Hospital.

Mr. C. M. Orihood of Bloomington, entered St. Luke's Hospital, in Chicago, Ill., for observation and treatment, Monday. He will be confined to the hospital, indefinitely.

Mrs. Orpha Bennett was removed from her home on East Paint Street to University Hospital, Columbus, Monday, in the Cox and Parrett ambulance. She has entered for observation and treatment.

Miss Rebecca Lou Shonkwiler was removed from St. Anthony's Hospital, Columbus, to her home near Buena Vista, in the Cox and Parrett ambulance, Tuesday. She is recuperating at her home after having undergone a major operation.

Mr. Clarence Brown was taken from Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, to his home on Broadway, Monday, in the Cox and Parrett ambulance. Brown underwent an operation for the amputation of one toe and part of another on the left foot, having been injured in the Central Grocery-Merriweather fire here a few weeks ago.

band is to play a couple of numbers at the auditorium and then be dismissed. Perrill emphasized that "the meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock" and added that the program had been arranged for a two-hour period to end at 10 P. M.

One of the features of the rally is to be the Madison County Women's Glee Club. This musical organization that has taken part in Republican campaigns for the past several years, probably will be seated on the stage, Perrill said. Numbers by the glee club are to open the program and possibly be sandwiched in between the three speakers. Gov. John W. Bricker's twin sister is a member of the club.

Republican leaders said that this rally was to be one of the biggest held here in several years and added that a big crowd was expected.

FOREIGN POLICY CRITICIZED BY SEN. TAFT AS LAUSCHE AND STEWART OPEN UP

(Continued from Page One)

Chandler said. Taft, declaring that "if only domestic questions were in issue, Dewey would be overwhelmingly elected," declared:

"The success of foreign negotiations, the prompt conclusion of the war, the return of our boys to

LOAN CO. OFFICIALS UNDER INDICTMENT

Three Charged With Selling Unregistered Securities

Three officials of the bankrupt Civic Loan Co., a branch of which was formerly located in the P. and D. Bank building in Washington C. H., were indicted by the October grand jury of Fairfield county, on 17 counts of selling unregistered securities and selling securities without a license.

Indictments were returned against Lloyd H. Welch, president; Roy F. Kuntz, vice-president, and Arthur C. Barr, assistant treasurer.

The firm had main offices in Lancaster and branches in Washington C. H., Newark, Zanesville, and Logan. It was declared bankrupt by Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood early this year.

WILLIAM O. BAUM CLAIMED BY DEATH

Stock Salesman Dies at Sale Near Sedalia Monday

William Orville Baum, 59, died suddenly while clerking a livestock sale for Emil Yarian near Sedalia.

Baum was employed at the Producer's Stockyard here for a while and also has clerked at livestock sales in Washington C. H.

Surviving are his widow, Clara, and one son, John, of Mt. Sterling. Also surviving are one brother and two sisters.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 P. M. at the Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling. Burial will be in the Mt. Sterling cemetery.

their homes, is not a matter of beautiful platitudes in fireside chats.

Requirements Listed

"It requires able, hard-headed administrative ability. It requires the same kind of ability that can conciliate and eliminate boards and bureaus and regimentation at home. It requires straight thinking and clear defining of the issues. It requires the vigorous American methods of Thomas E. Dewey."

Taft filed a report under the Hatch Act that he had spent $9,266 on his campaign up to ten days before election. His opponent, William G. Pickrel of Dayton, reported to the senate secretary expenditures of $7,046.

Stewart And Lausche

Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati, the Republican, and Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland, the Democrat, fired across the state at each other. Stewart declared at Eaton that Lausche's election as governor might result in "a Hague-Kelley-Pendergast machine in Ohio," while Lausche told a Warren

Weather

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT

Chalmers Burns, Observer
Low Monday night ..... 29
Minimum, Monday ..... 28
Temp. 9 P. M., Monday ..... 29
Maximum, Monday ..... 33
Precipitation, Monday ..... 0
Minimum this date 1942 ..... 28
Maximum this date 1943 ..... 31
Precipitation this date 1943 ..... 0

The Associated Press temperature chart showing weather conditions, maximum yesterday and minimum last night.

Akron, clear ..... 33 26
Atlanta, cloudy ..... 25 42
Bismarck, clear ..... 22 32
Buffalo, pt. cloudy ..... 22 26
Chicago, pt. cloudy ..... 27 59
Cincinnati, cloudy ..... 29 59
Cleveland, clear ..... 24 41
Dayton, clear ..... 25 30
Deliver, clear ..... 22 41
Detroit, pt. cloudy ..... 22 46
Duluth, clear ..... 27 41
Fort Worth, clear ..... 30 50
Huntington, W. Va., pt. cloudy ..... 27 52
Indianapolis, clear ..... 27 49
Kansas City, clear ..... 31 50
Los Angeles, cloudy ..... 67 58
Louisville, clear ..... 29 25
Miami, clear ..... 25 25
Milwaukee, clear ..... 24 49
New Orleans, clear ..... 80 24
New York, clear ..... 36 49
Oklahoma City, clear ..... 29 58
Pittsburgh, pt. cloudy ..... 22 40
Toledo, pt. cloudy ..... 22 27
Washington, D. C., clear ..... 64 42 rally that "Ohio has no need for a ceremonial governor."

"My opponent," Stewart said, "has not even attempted to deny that he is the handpicked candidate of the New Deal—of Sidney Hillman, Earl Browder, and the other Communistically minded despots."

"Is he not then also the candidate of the Hague-Kelley-Pendergast machine that seeks to keep the New Deal in Power? Will he not then plan to set up a similar machine in Ohio, patterned after theirs and like theirs, taking its political orders direct from Washington?"

Lausche, at Warren, again compared the duties of the mayors of Cincinnati and Cleveland, declaring:

"The mayor of Cleveland combines in himself all the functions of a city manager and those that are exercised by the titular and ceremonial mayor of Cincinnati, with one exception, and that is to preside in the city council."

"It may be that the thinking of my opposition is that the arrangement that prevails in Cincinnati may be generally acceptable in the state, the parallel being that, if elected, my opponent shall be the titular and ceremonial governor, while the actual manager and administrator of the state's public finances and public business shall be the political boss of Cincinnati, Ed Schorr (Republican state chairman)."

American elm trees are valued at more than $750,000,000, according to forestry experts.

PILES?

SPECIALIST'S CHOICE: The formula used by Thornton & Minor Clinic. Relieves pile pain, itching, soreness QUICK! Then treats with astringent, softens. Get $1.00 tube (Thornton & Minor's Rectal Ointment, or get Thornton & Minor's Rectal Suppositories, only a few cents more. Try DOCTORS' way TODAY.

At all good drug stores everywhere—in Washington C. H., at Down Town Drug Store.

BATTLE FOR HOLLAND NOW IN MOP-UP STAGE: YANK SECTOR QUIET

(Continued from Page One)

Walcheren Island. A few enemy guns remaining on Walcheren Island bar the passage of Allied ships from the long water approach to Antwerp.

West of Antwerp the capture of Retranchement compressed the remnants of the Germans' old Schelde pocket garrison into a rapidly diminishing square of land on the North Sea coast.

Below the Maas and its seaward outlet, the Hollandsch Diep, converging British and Polish columns sweeping up from Breda and Tilburg met in Oosterhout, drove forward and captured Raamsdonk, less than two miles from one of the main bridges over the Maas near Geertruidenberg.

Farther west, Roosendaal was abandoned yesterday by its German garrison, and Allied troops dashed beyond it to the vicinity of Oud' Gastel. North of Bergen Op Zoom, the Canadian forces neared Steenberghe.

On American sectors of the western front, the French city of Maziere-Les-Metz, six miles north of Metz, was cleared after three weeks of bitter street fighting.

Farther south the villages of Bru and Jeannenil, approximately two miles east of Rambervillers, were captured.

Otherwise there was little but patrol activity from Aachen to the Swiss border.

Battle of Italy

In Italy, Indian troops of the Eighth Army increased the threat to the German stronghold of Forlì outside the Rimini-Bologna highway today by throwing a bridgehead across the Ronco River near Meldola, seven miles to the south.

Allied headquarters announced the foothold was quickly consolidated and extended to a depth of half a mile.

Less than five miles to the southwest Polish troops, who captured the mountain town of Predappio two days ago, ran into strong German positions at Caminoto in the hills to the north in the direction of Forlì.

Elsewhere on the Italian front activities yesterday were largely limited to local actions.

In the west coast sector Brazilian troops captured a peak 2,800 feet high against enemy machine-gun fire and other Brazilians occupied Calomini, about 15 miles east of Massa.

Along the Adriatic, Eighth Army forces were advancing against only light opposition. The Germans apparently were swinging their line north to a more advantageous anchor somewhere north of Ravenna.

Cologne Bombed Again

More than 1,000 British and Canadian planes dropped 4,000 tons of bombs last night on Cologne, "the most heavily bombed of German cities," and Mosquitos made two raids on Berlin.

A Canadian communiqué said a sizeable force of RCAF Halifaxes and Lancasters participated in the sixth blasting of Cologne since Saturday. Two planes were lost.

Air fields over a wide area of Germany were attacked. The Canadian communiqué for the first time designated the big Rhineland city, now in the direct path of the American First Army, as the most heavily bombed city of the Reich. Although it did not go into damage details, the use of this superlative recalled eye-witness descriptions of flattened Hamburg and the terrific damage done to other Allied targets.

An earlier RAF communiqué said 1,000 heavy bombers had hit Cologne. The Canadian statement said that although clouds obscured part of the target huge fires and much smoke rose from the city after the attack.

LEGLESS WOMAN FLIER

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31—(AP)—

Mrs. Alvena Babbs, 26, yesterday became the first legless person to receive a Civil Aeronautics authority student's flying certificate, when she made a solo flight in her own airplane, which is equipped with special hand-operated controls.

Both her legs were amputated following an accident in infancy.

SAILOR ON LEAVE IS DROWNED IN OHIO RIVER

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31—(AP)—

Apprentice Seaman Thomas Draper, 20, of Los Angeles, on leave from navy training at the University of Notre Dame, drowned in the Ohio River yesterday when his canoe overturned. Draper was returning from a two-day camping trip with William R. Brockhoff of Cincinnati, also a naval trainee, coast guardsmen reported.

'EEP FAITH WITH THEM! BUY MORE WAR BONDS

Red and White
PUMPKIN No. 2 1/2 ..... 2 for 25c
CRANBERRIES, lb. .... 38c
FRUIT CAKES, 3 1/4 lbs. each. .... $1.10
SCOURING PADS ..... 32 for 25c

Red and White
MATCHES 6 bxs. for 29c
FLORIDA ORANGES, doz. .... 35c

Rockwell & Ruhl
Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

Red & White Market
112 E. Court St. Phone 2566

In 1922, there were only 22 miles of railway in Alaska.

LAST SHOWING DOUBLE FEATURE
Red Skelton
'WHISTLING IN DIXIE'

2nd Feature
Laurel - Hardy
in
'Air Raid Wardens'

WED. THURS.
'Dr. Gillespie's New Assistant'

and
'Pilot No. 5'

LAST TIMES TONITE
Jean Davis
"KANSAS CITY KITTY"

Feature No. 2
Laurel and Hardy

THE NEW STATE

ALWAYS 2 BIG HITS
Feature No. 1

Bing at His Best...
Dotty at Her Loveliest...

BING Crosby
DOROTHY Lamour

12 GREAT SONG HITS
MARJORIE REYNOLDS
LYNNE DE WOLFE
RAYMOND EDDIE
WALBURN FOY, JR.

Hit No. 2
March of Time

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

COMING SUNDAY
Fred McMurray
Dorothy Lamour
and
Betty Hutton
in
'AND THE ANGELS SING'

VOTERS of Fayette County

I am - - -
A Candidate
—For—

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

At the election

TUESDAY, NOV. 7

And will appreciate your support

HOMER MILLER

(Republican Ticket)

(Pol. Adv.)

VOTERS of Fayette County

I respectfully solicit your support at the election - - -

TUESDAY, NOV. 7

As

A Candidate

—For—

County Commissioner

JEAN S. NISLEY

(Republican Ticket)

(Pol. Adv.)

VOTERS of Fayette County

I respectfully solicit your support at the election - - -

TUESDAY, NOV. 7

As

A Candidate

—For—

County Commissioner

JEAN S. NISLEY

(Republican Ticket)

(Pol. Adv.)

TOYLAND Now Open!

The largest line of toys we have ever had. All good high grade toys. We have them systematically displayed to avoid handling. No shop worn toys here. All fresh stock.

Buy Your Toys Early

Use Our Lay-a-way Plan

Wilson's Hardware

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

France's fresh crisis, brought about by the De Gaulle government's decree disarming everybody except the regular army and the police—an order directed at Communist Partisans, who have defied its authority—is symptomatic of the heavy trials she must endure to achieve regeneration.

If the present crisis didn't involve the Communists it would revolve about some other pressing problem—though the Communist question is big and growing, and is likely to reach momentous proportions. France is plagued politically, economically and physically. General De Gaulle and his provisional government will have to run the gamut of many and great troubles.

To understand this we must recognize that La Belle France is still terribly ill from a complete national collapse. Her debacle in 1940 was due less to Hitler's great strength than to her own weakness resulting from a breakdown both in spirit and in moral stamina among many who had responsibility for the guidance of their country. That came from a dry rot that had been going on for long.

The formal recognition just accorded the provisional government by Washington, London, Moscow and other capitals should have a beneficial effect. British Prime Minister Churchill says it can be regarded "as a symbol of France's emergence from four dark years of terrible and woeful experience," and as "heralding a period in which she will resume her rightful role on the world stage."

One of the things which impelled me to write this column was the suggestion heard in some circles that it might be better for France if the big three maintained control there until she got on her feet. The answer to that seems to me to be emphatically in the negative.

The French nation must be master of its own fate. De Gaulle's government must pull itself up by its bootstraps. Friendly and sympathetic assistance by other nations is needed, and it can work wonders, but foreign interference would only add to the difficulties which already exist.

General De Gaulle's recognition of this, I take it, accounts for his desire that France take a greater part in the concluding days of the war. One senses an eagerness that his country be given a chance to redeem itself in actual combat, and certainly it seems that this might have a spiritualizing power. The battle-field can be a great cleanser. France must make sacrifices in order to achieve her former position.

Of course it likely would be difficult for the Allies to arm a big French force right now, when they are rushing to get the big offensive under way. However, one would expect De Gaulle to have an increasing opportunity for participation.

Looking at France's situation from all angles, it's easy to understand the true meaning of the purge which the government has inaugurated against those who have collaborated with Hitler in the enslavement of their own people. Already there are under way trials which may send some 100,000 to their deaths.

Such a purge is a terrible thing, but probably there are few on-lookers who don't agree that the traitors among the accused must be dealt with. The 100,000 represent a few of the rotten elements which spread the decay that caused France's downfall. They come from all walks of life, and of the De Gaulle government had decreed that 1,000,000 rather than 100,000 must stand trial, it wouldn't have been surprising.

I say these things as one who has lived in France, who likes that great country and who believes in it. This is a moment when France needs understanding friends—and she has them.

MAY M. DUFFEE PENS NARRATIVE OF M'COY DEATHS

Poem To Be Finished When Appellate Court Gives Decision

Awaiting only final developments in the Collett case, Miss May M. Duffee, 217 East Street, has her narrative poem of the McCoy murder almost finished.

Miss Duffee began working on the poem shortly after the triple murder on Thanksgiving Eve last year. Since then, she has produced a pile of manuscript over an inch thick to relate the story of the crime in verse.

Her purpose in writing the poem is to preserve the history of the murder in an easily accessible form, she said. Told in quatrains, the entire poem is subdivided into sections which will form chapters in the finished book, Miss Duffee said. A description of the McCoy farm, the tragedy, Collett, the sale at the farm, and the testimony at the trial all are included in these chapters.

As footnotes, Miss Duffee plans to include the names of everyone connected with the trial in the proper sequence. Thus the names of the witnesses and jurors at the trial, detectives, sheriffs and all others who were in any way linked with the trial or murder investigation will be included in the book also.

Miss Duffee necessarily must wait until the decision of the appellate court is given as to whether or not a new trial will be granted before she can finish her narrative. She is now, however, up to date in her verse record of the murder and its consequences.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GUY C. HENKLE

Funeral services for Guy C. Henkle, former resident of Washington C. H., who died in Seattle, Washington, were held at the Washington C. H. Cemetery Monday at 10 A.M. and interment made in the family lot.

The services were simple and impressive and were conducted beside the grave. In addition to offering prayer, reading from the scriptures and speaking briefly, Rev. Parkin read an appropriate poem.

The body was accompanied from the west by Mr. Henkle's daughter, Beatrice, her husband, Roy A. Palm and their sons, Ensign James W. Palm and Robert Palm, of the Merchant Marine.

Also present for the funeral were...

Scott's Scrap Book

LA SALLE, THE GREATEST OF ALL THE FRENCH EXPLORERS WAS NOT NAMED LASALLE - HIS NAME WAS RENE ROBERT CAVALIER

WHAT U.S. PRESIDENT WAS A FIRST RATE BOXER? "TEDDY" ROOSEVELT

IN THE DEAD SEA IS MORE THAN FIVE TIMES AS SALTY AS THE OCEAN

GRADE LABELLING IS COUNCIL TOPIC

Hallowe'en Meeting Is With Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morgan

Grade labelling of canned foods and the importance of ordering fertilizer early were the two topics discussed in the brief business session of Jasper Township Farm Bureau Council I when it met Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morgan of Milledgeville for a Hallowe'en meeting.

Ed Whiteside was the discussion leader for the session in which it was agreed that canned food should have a quality rating on the label and that because of a greater demand and shortages of...

50 YEARS BUT WHY OLD? DON'T BLAME YOUR YEARS FOR LACK OF VIM-VIGOR-VITALITY

Thousands at 30-40-50 feel weak, peepless, older than their years.

TRY BLUE KAPS

Their vital ingredients may help you guard against that tired, weak, worn-out feeling. Get BLUE KAPS Tonic Today.

At Down Town Drug Store

We Endorse FRANCES P. KEARNEY -For- COUNTY RECORDER

Democratic Ticket

General Election

November 7, 1944

A former deputy county recorder of Fayette County, and is qualified by her experience in this office.

FAYETTE COUNTY DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, R. M. Winegardner, Chairman.

(Pol. Adv.)

TO THE VOTERS OF FAYETTE COUNTY

I came out for re-election at the request of scores of good citizens of the county, representing both parties. It is impossible for me to see all of you, as I am doing just what I was elected to do and what you are paying me to do—ATTENDING TO THE DUTIES OF MY OFFICE. If re-elected I will continue to serve you as faithfully as I have in the past, with the same competent deputies, Mr. Otto Reno and Mr. Frank Grubbs, with Mrs. Frank Grubbs serving as jail matron and housekeeper.

I feel that on account of our experience we are in a better position to serve you now than ever before. The man who said there is no substitute for experience said a mouthful. Any time, day or night, that we can help you, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Any support you can give me will be highly appreciated, same as always.

W. H. ICENHOWER

Democratic Candidate for Re-election

(Pol. Adv.)

REHABILITATION DUTY OVERSEAS FOR WCH WOMAN

Miss Charlotte Hazard To Be With United Nations Relief And Rehabilitation

Miss Charlotte E. Hazard, daughter of Mrs. Aurora Hazard, 327 East Elm Street, soon will be among a corps of workers of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration who will go overseas to help people in newly liberated countries get on their feet and resume normal lives once more.

Miss Hazard will leave for Washington, D. C. in a few weeks to take a short training course before being sent overseas, her mother said.

Years of experience as a social worker have fitted Miss Hazard for her new assignment. For the past two years she has been with the department of labor in Cleveland. Before going to Cleveland, she was in Cincinnati working in aid for dependent children.

Miss Hazard also has taught commercial subjects in Piketon High School and was employed at the Building and Loan here for seven years. She is a 1925 graduate of Washington C. H. High School and a graduate of the Office Training School in Columbus. She also attended Miami University.

Miss Hazard's two brothers...

Why Millions Now Do This!

It's so easy to get prompt, effective relief from distress of head colds with Va-tro-nol! It's specialized medication that works right where trouble is to reduce congestion—soothe irritation—make breathing easier. Also helps prevent many colds from developing if used in time. Try it! Follow directions in folder. Works fine!

A FEW DROPS Quickly Relieve Distress of HEAD COLDS

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

TUNE IN! and LISTEN! To These Important Messages

- TUESDAY—October 31—Governor Dewey speaking from Buffalo, broadcast over NBC, 8 to 9:30 P. M., C.W.T.
- WEDNESDAY, November 1—Governor Dewey speaking from Boston, broadcast over NBC and MBS, 8:30 to 9 P. M., C.W.T.
- THURSDAY, November 2—Governor Bricker speaking over CBS, 8:30 to 9 P. M., C.W.T. (Place to be announced.)
- FRIDAY—November 3—Governor Bricker speaking from Philadelphia, broadcast over Blue Network, 8:30 to 9 P. M., C.W.T.
- SATURDAY, November 4—Governor Dewey speaking from Madison Square Garden, New York, broadcast over NBC and CBS, 9:30 to 10 P. M., C.W.T.
- MONDAY, November 6—Governor Dewey speaking over NBC, CBS, MBS and Blue Networks, 10 to 10:15 P. M., C.W.T.

FAYETTE COUNTY REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION. Mrs. Florence B. Snyder, Chairwoman.

(Pol. Adv.)

NEW Radio Program

BIG BILL SINGER AND PHILOSOPHER

Monday through Friday 10:30 P. M.

Radio Station WING 1410 ON YOUR DIAL

THE DAYTON POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

A gleam on your HAT puts the gleam in his eye!

SONS THE SPOT FOR IMPORTED WINES

BARB SONS GRILLS RAY BLACKBURN, Mgr. Closing Hour 1 A. M.

For new winter brilliance—your little felt hat shines anew this winter—with gold nail heads—to accent the dark felts—wear them and sparkle.

New Conformal Styles To Fit Every Costume

FREE YOUR FEET

from fatigue and discomfort at last... in this revolutionary new kind of shoe with the amazing Plastic Arch actually moulded to fit and support your individual feet! Smart styles, longer wear, FREE trial fittings.

CONFORMAL SHOES

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR...

Cinderella Christmas Frocks

$1.95 to $2.95 FOR GIRLS from 3 to 14

Be a smart Santa... give every girl the gift she adores... a sparkling new dress! Bring your shopping list here, and choose from our exciting new group of Cinderella Holiday Frocks. You'll find fine cottons and spun rayons, thrillingly styled and designed with a wealth of smart detailing. Shop early and give the gift famed for quality... Cinderella Frocks.

LOOK FOR CINDERELLA'S COACH THE SIGN OF SMART FROCKS FOR GIRLS

CRAIG'S

THE RECORD-HERALD
Consolidating the Washington C. H. Herald and the Record-Republican.
Published every afternoon, except Sunday, at the Record-Herald building, South Fayette Street, Washington, D. C., Ohio.
Entered in the post office at Washington, D. C., Ohio, as second-class mail matter.
THE WASHINGTON NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY
FOREST F. TIPTON, President
General Manager
MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this newspaper and also to the local news published herein.
SUBSCRIPTION TERMS
By carrier 25c per week; by mail and rural mail routes in Washington, D. C., trading area $3.00 per year. Elsewhere in Ohio $6.00 per year. Outside Ohio $8.00 per year. Single copies four cents.
TELEPHONE NUMBERS
Business Office 2121 City Editor 9701
Society Editor 5291
We Stand Squarely for the Best Interest of the Citizens of Washington, D. C., and Fayette County.

World's Problem Children
For the Japanese people, as viewed in the light of their present aims and conduct, there is not much hope. Before they launched the present oriental war they were generally regarded as having adopted our western civilization and its standards. But that turns out to have been a dream. Broadly speaking, the Japs seem to be living still in the Middle Ages. Their modernity seems only skin-deep, and their boasted equality with the West a mere vision of the distant future. Their transformation into genuine members of world-society may take another century.

What of the European Germans, who provide the great problem on that continent? Their alliance with the Japanese, strange as it seemed at first, is probably a natural recognition of similar qualities. Though more resourceful than the Japs, they tend to live in international outlawry, flouting the standards of more civilized nations.

Like primitive man, as Kipling phrased it, "what they think they may require, they go and take." And when they abandon such crude standards, no one can tell. They have more talent and imagination than the Japs, but that makes it all the worse when they run amuck or indulge in their primitive forays, because they are diabolically clever in their crime.

Busy Mars
Is all Europe to be involved in the present war? The new Spanish Republican revolt against General Francisco Franco suggests such a possibility. The movement is growing, with insurrectionists filtering in from France, and the mountains filled with rebels or fugitives. The Maquis, too, formerly heard of mainly in France, are now busy in Spain. Hardly any European countries seem to be left free from war or conquest except Portugal, Eire and Switzerland.

It is an interesting occupation, too, for anyone with an idle hour, to carry this inquiry into other countries and continents. There is no continent free from participation in the war, and the actual area of combat or belligerency almost literally covers the world. There seems to be no place on the globe where the effects are not felt.

Rural Free Delivery
John Meloy Stahl, writer and lecturer on agriculture and economics, was called in his recent obituaries "the father of rural free delivery," apparently because he first proposed the establishment of this service in 1879.

Perhaps his advocacy of the idea reached the ears of persons in a position to do something about it. At any rate histories of the postal service do not mention Stahl. John Wanamaker, the department store owner who was postmaster-general under President Benjamin Harrison, is credited with urging in 1891 an appropriation to try out the scheme. Two years later a small appropriation was made, but apparently without encouraging results. It was not until 1896 that Postmaster General William L. Wilson, serving under President Grover Cleveland, established rural free delivery in West Virginia. So successful was its operation that in nine

Washington at a Glance By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Political prognosticators here already have been wrong on two scores and to say that it has them a bit bum-fuzzled is to put it lightly. It is almost certain now that the Nov. 7 civilian vote is going to be far larger than anticipated, and already it is certain that the service vote is going to exceed the expectations of those who made predictions just after the soldier vote law was passed. In the case of the war service vote, about 4,500,000 ballots were sent out and the number marked and returned already is close to 2,000,000, with reports still incomplete. And it is still weeks away from the receiving deadline of many states. Even those who had early pessimism on the size of the service vote now are estimating that it will reach at least 3,000,000. This would be nearly 40 per cent of the potential vote of uniformed men and women—a remarkable showing considering the difficulties involved. With battlefronts spread all over the globe, the fact that the Army and Navy have been able to distribute ballots from the states to even 4,000,000 men seems a masterpiece of organization. As for the civilian vote, the only way of estimating is on the basis of registrations. Considering all the talk of apathy early in the campaign (and there was every indication that this was true), the available registration figures are nothing short of sensational. A recent Associated Press survey in 13 cities of over a half-million population indicated that, including servicemen and women who had applied for ballots, registration was greater than in 1940 in all but one—St. Louis. There, official figures weren't available but a decline of about 20,000 in registration was expected. On a 1940 basis, these cities would provide nearly 24 per cent of the total popular vote for President. Various reasons for this revival of interest are given, but all are mostly speculation. Various Get-Out-The-Vote committees, particularly CIO-PAC in industrial centers, are given some credit. Generally, however, it appears that the electorate wasn't as apathetic as it seemed, and the blitz character the campaign has taken on in recent weeks has stirred it to new interest. What this will mean at the polls, of course, can only be guessed. The surprising thing is that with the election only days away, the sideline boys are shy- ing away from guessing now. Nearly all their calculations were made on a basis of popular vote not exceeding 39 to 45 millions. It could conceivably now reach the record 1940 total of nearly 50,000,000.

Flashes of Life
Non-Support
LONDON—(AP)—A pair of braces killed 71-year-old James Huby. They broke and his trousers fell and tripped him. He fell over a balcony and died of a fractured skull.
Whale of a Business
DURBAN, South Africa—(AP)—Whale meat has been put on the market here and housewives bought five tons the first day. Their families liked it.
Grab Bag
One-Minute Test
1. Who were the two American generals named Jackson, and what were their nicknames?
2. Who was the governor of Texas who was adopted by the Cherokee Indians as a boy, and called The Raven?
3. Which are the only two of the 13 original states that have Indian names?

Words of Wisdom
The labor of the body relieves us from the fatigues of the mind; and this it is which forms the happiness of the poor.—Rochefoucauld.

Hints on Etiquette
If you are dining out formally and wear long gloves, remove them entirely while eating. It is not enough to turn them back at the wrists.

Today's Horoscope
If you are celebrating a birthday today, you are kind and loving, sympathetic and quite sensitive. You are popular and a comfortable person to have around. Although you are retiring and unassuming, you have good judgment, once you make up your mind. You have many friends. A busy, important and exceptionally good year lies ahead of you, the more so if rash conduct in love and friendship is avoided. Concentrate on business expansion. Born on this date a child should early be taught the folly of excessive pleasure and uncontrolled emotions. With these provisos a successful career is indicated.

One-Minute Test Answers
1. Thomas Jonathan (Stonewall) Jackson; Andrew (Old Hickory) Jackson.
2. Sam Houston.
3. Connecticut, meaning Long River, and Massachusetts, meaning Great-Hill-Small-Place.

months 82 routes had been established in 28 states.

Since then rural free delivery has become a fixture of American life. In 1939 there were 33,000 routes in the United States, ministering to 26,000,000 persons. If anything, the tendency is now to reduce the number. The building of better roads and the movement of population have made it possible to combine several routes in making a few cover more territory.

An Egg's Age
The useful egg, sometimes scarce and again overabundant but always one of the staffs of life, has been subjected to more cookery experiments, this time in laboratories of the University of California, with interesting results.

It is discovered that for some uses age improves the egg, always provided it hasn't reached the clucking or smelly stage. Angel food and sponge cakes are most tender, custards are smoother and less apt to curdle, if the eggs therein are two to four weeks old.

Apparently the period between four weeks and the years the Chinese prefer to wait is still one for experiment.

Kitchen Hazards
Since the war began, housewives have come out of the kitchen to climb shipyard scaffolds with riveting machine and welding torch. They have worked with flashing knives and whirling saws, awesome cranes, presses and punches.

Now comes a responsible home economist with the declaration that the kitchen is "one of the most hazardous spots on earth." Such things as kerosene, naphtha, lye and abrasives she calls "ferocious."

Probably she is right. Accident figures have long bolstered her dire warnings. Now it may be hoped that experience in factories, where hazards are respected and guarded against, will impel the war-working housewife to plan better and proceed more cautiously in her peacetime kitchen.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Hey, look—slacks!"

Diet and Health

The Advances of Modern Surgery
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
THE "GOLDEN AGE" of surgery has been said to be the period after surgical anaesthesia was discovered, roughly about one hundred years ago, when to that triumph was added the discovery of how to prevent germ infections in surgical incisions—asepsis—which was roughly about fifty years ago. Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

umf was added the discovery of how to prevent germ infections in surgical incisions—asepsis—which was roughly about fifty years ago. The three great problems of surgery were once said to be haemorrhage, anaesthesia and asepsis. The control of hemorrhage was solved long ago by the use of the tourniquet. In the middle of the sixteenth century, by the use of the ligature. With that discovered and anaesthesia and asepsis added, the surgeon could explore any part of the human anatomy without causing the patient any excruciating immediate pain and without having him bleed to death and without leaving him infected with germs to suppurate to death.

Then began the golden age of surgery—about 1890. It lasted about thirty years. It was the age of development of great mechanical dexterity. All the classical operative procedures were developed during that time—how to remove the appendix, how to drain the gallbladder, how to remove parts of the stomach and intestines—how even to enter the chest and take out part of the lung without its collapsing and to sew up a wounded heart without stopping its beating, to expose the very brain itself, to remove organs which were making trouble, such as the thyroid gland, and the spleen, to remove tumours and infected organs anywhere. All this was standardized so it could be done with the greatest economy and the maximum of safety and minimum of damage to tissues. It was indeed the golden age.

The New Surgery
It seemed to many surgeons of my apprenticeship days that there was nothing left for them to learn. But there was and the new surgery is learning it and advancing to build more safeguards around the surgical patient. The watchword of the new surgery is physiology. The old surgery was anatomical—structural. It had learned to rip open and nail together again a human being very much as if he were a frame house. And indeed I am inclined to think that many of the surgeons I held for four victims of train-auto crash near Jeffersonville. Heaviest fog in years envelops community last night and today. F. L. Stutson Co. announces style show with living models. The Pacific ocean has an area of 63.8 million square miles.

Five Years Ago
Edgar M. Neal honored by rural carriers as he retires after 33 years of service.
100,000 sales tax stamps are donated to organ fund.
Plans are made for dedication of new Sunnyside school building; Dr. E. E. Lewis will be the guest speaker.

Ten Years Ago
Charles Penwell, found guilty of criminal assault, sentenced to Ohio penitentiary.
Boy Scouts launch drive to secure old clothing for Red Cross.
London Hi beats Blue Lions football team, 12-10.

Fifteen Years Ago
Ford and Glenn, famous radio stars, appear at Fayette Theater in stage attraction.
Corn husking in Fayette County is well underway with a better yield than first expected.

Local markets: wheat, $1.15; corn, 65 cents; oats, 40 cents; eggs, 50 cents a dozen.

Twenty Years Ago
Two double funeral services

WOLF IN MAN'S CLOTHING by MIGNON G. EBERHART © 1945 BY AUTHOR—DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.
CHAPTER FOURTEEN
Craig had said murder and now Conrad Brent was dead. It was not a comfortable thought. Even so, I was a little taken back to find my hand had gone out toward the brandy decanter. I was, indeed, in the very act of lifting it and reaching for a glass when I stopped. Having been a practicing teetotaler all my life, I withdrew my hand quickly, although, as to that, there was not enough brandy in the decanter to make a very black mark on my record. I had, however, already touched the decanter—but I thought nothing of it, then, and looked again about the room. Clues? There weren't any. Not even cigarette or cigar ashes. A cuff link would have come in handy just then, I thought, or burned papers in the fireplace. But there was nothing. Nothing but Conrad Brent, and the only thing I could be fairly sure of was that however he had died, it was due in the end to an acute heart block. His face was ashy gray, with a tinge of blue in the lips—what is called cyanosis. He still wore dinner clothes, except he had taken off his dinner jacket and replaced it with a short, brown velvet lounge coat; his black tie hung in strings, and his collar was open. I was looking at that when without warning bombs began to drop on the house. At least, it sounded like it. For all at once somewhere in the house there was a thud, a series of loud thumps and then a clatter as of shattering glass. I ran to the door of the library and flung it open. The noise stopped as suddenly as it began, except it seemed to me there were echoes all through the house. No one was in the hall, and I had started toward the stairs when Peter Huber came running from the end of the hall, beyond the stairs, gave a wild look around the great empty hall, saw me and shouted, "What was that?" He didn't wait for an answer but ran up the stairs taking the steps three at a time and I ran after him. The noise seemed to come from the second floor and Drue was up there alone with Craig, who had been the victim of one attempt at murder the previous night. Well, I'm not too feet on my feet, although I took the stairs at what amounted to a gallop. When I reached the hall above, Peter Huber had disappeared. The main, wide part of the corridor stretched dimly away ahead of me and behind me; there were two or three night lights along it; they were not bright and the shapes of occasional chairs ranged against the walls loomed up like clumsy dark creatures waiting there for prey, but did not move. A narrow corridor crossed the main one just on the other side of the stairwell and appeared to lead toward the servants' wing and backstairs; Peter Huber must have turned into that or into some room. I didn't stop to look for him. As I ran along that dim, wide corridor, my starved, white skirt rustling and whispering against the shadowy walls, the house began to stir. Someone rang a bell somewhere, someone flung open a door. Then I reached my patient's room. It was lighted as I had left it. But the bed was empty. The room was empty. Craig Brent was gone and so was Drue. I rushed into the room and searched it a little fearfully; I remembered looking under the bed and pulling out the heavy red curtains and looking behind them, though not even a cat could have hidden successfully there. The cat— but the cat was gone, too. No one was in the bathroom, no one in the little dressing room. As I came out of it, hurrying, Maud Chivery, in a voluminous, flowered dressing gown, came sweeping into the bedroom and aimed a flashlight directly into my eyes. "What was that noise? What happened?" she cried. Then she saw the bed and squealed, "What have you done with Craig?" "What had I done with Craig?" "Conrad Brent is dead. He's in the library. You'd better call the doctor." I snatched the flashlight from her hand. Her face turned waxy and her bright eyes became two sharp points of light; I thought she was going to faint, for she said, "O-o-o-h," in a kind of whistle from utterly blanched lips. So I gave her a push toward a chair and turned to the door. Alexia was standing there in the door; a crimson dressing gown clung to her lovely, curved body and fell, trailing, around her feet; her small, pointed face loomed from a cloud of fine black hair. "Conrad," she said in a kind of whisper, "Conrad." And then, as I made to pass her, she clutched at me. "Where is Craig? What has happened to him?" "It's what I'm trying to find out." I unlocked her pointed, vehement fingers and went hurriedly into the hall. Craig couldn't be far away. So I tried the bedroom nearest me; the door opened upon chill, orderly emptiness and a "Stag at Eve" gazed mournfully at me from above the mantel. No sign of Craig or Drue. I started toward the door opposite and, as I turned, I bumped into a man hurrying along. We collided with a shock that whirled us around toward each other and it was Nicky. He all but pushed me out of the way and I dropped Maud's flashlight. It struck his foot, I believe. At any rate, he swore in a sharp, startled way and cried, dancing on one foot and clasping the other in his hand, "Did you see Conrad? Where is he?" "In the library." "Is he dead? Are you sure? Is he dead?" His eyes were bright as jewels in his elegant, small face. "Go and look for yourself," I snapped, and retrieved the flashlight as he hurried toward Maud and Alexia who were at the door of Craig's room. I heard Alexia say, "I'm going down. Come with me, Maud." Then I opened the next door and found Craig. The room was a kind of linen closet, narrow and long, lined with cupboards and smelling of lavender, and Craig lay at full length on the floor with Drue bending over him apparently trying to drown him, for he was holding a towel dripping with water to his head. "Drue!" "Sarah, he's been hurt! Look..." His face was drained-looking; she lifted the towel from one temple and it was cut and bleeding. "What happened?" "I don't know. He wasn't in his room when I came upstairs. I looked for him and found him here. Like this..." He wore a dressing gown and slippers and a blanket had been put around him. "Blanket and all!" I asked, kneeling to look closer at the cut. "No, I brought the blanket. He must have heard us downstairs, and tried to come, and fell against something." "What was he doing in here?" "His pulse wasn't bad; I took a gingerly look at the dressings on his shoulder and the wound hadn't opened again for there seemed to be no fresh bleeding." "I don't know. But he was here, not in the hall. Is he hurt?" There was a sharp anxiety in her tone. "Oh, the cut isn't bad. Painful maybe, later. We'll put something on it. The thing to do is get him back to bed before he gets pneumonia." "I sat back on my heels and took a long breath. Drue said jerkily, 'When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought...' She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. 'When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought...' She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I stared at her face, bent over Craig. 'That noise! Surely you heard it.' 'I didn't hear anything,' she said, intent on Craig. 'Perhaps I was in the bathroom. Sarah, do you think we can carry him?' I gave up. 'No,' I said. 'I'll get somebody to help.' I got up, and, as I moved, Craig Brent's eyelids fluttered and opened. "When I saw him—like that—I thought he was dead. There'd been no sound of a shot. But I thought..." She stopped and leaned over him and pressed the towel to his temple again. "My knees were still shaking. 'What was the noise?' I asked. 'What noise?' 'What?' 'I

EARLY MAILING FOR CHRISTMAS IS BEING URGED

Uncle Sam Wants Packages And Cards Posted in Ample Time

Uncle Sam is beginning early to urge the public to post Christmas parcels and cards in ample time to insure delivery by Christmas, without the usual last minute rush.

This plan was largely followed last year and as a result the big volume of mail was handled promptly and deliveries all made by Christmas.

A small statement is being sent out by Frank C. Walker, Postmaster General, urging the public to shop early and mail parcels and cards early.

The statement reads: "Because 50,000 postal workers and 300,000 railroad workers have gone into the armed services and trains are loaded with war materials to assure delivery by Christmas Day, shop now, mail in November."

"Mark parcels: 'Do not open until Christmas.' Use postal delivery zone numbers."

Postmaster W. E. Passmore, commenting upon the message from Postmaster General Walker, says:

"For the reasons given in the dodger it is just about as important to have a complete legible address and return card on each piece of mail, regardless of class, as it is to mail early. The public in general has shown a fine spirit of cooperation in this respect but there is still room for improvement."

"It is not only important that the address be complete and correct, but that it be arranged in the customary manner so as to facilitate the reading of the address when handling the mail with the rapidity required and to prevent improper treatment and delay."

"Since many abbreviations for state names are similar it is suggested that state names be written in full in all addresses. It is also very important that zone numbers be used whenever possible."

"The requests in the enclosed statement as well as the suggestions apply to civilian as well as military mail."

WORLD AIR CONFAB UPSET BY RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—Senator Ball (R-Minn.) contended today that Congress can commit the use of American troops as part of an international police force, at the discretion of the proposed world security council.

Ball took issue in an interview with some members of Congress and others who have asserted that delegation of such authority to the United States member of the council, without congressional sanction each time the troops were used against an aggressor

You're Not Too Old To Feel Young

This is a message for men who have known life but no longer find it thrilling because of the lack of certain vitamins and hormones. Tromone, a recent medical discovery combining vitamins and hormones may multiply the vim and zest and enjoyment you once knew. Your whole approach, your whole attitude toward life, may improve when you begin to use Tromone. Now it may be possible for middle-aged men to again enjoy the same spirit, vitality and pleasures that made their youth a thing to remember. Added years need not subtract from your pleasures when you use Tromone, the new medical formula combining vitamins and hormones. Follow directions on label. Tromone for sale by Downtown Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

Kroger's
HAMBURG, lb. ....	27c
Mild CREAM CHEESE, lb. ....	37c
PERCH FILLETS, lb. ....	32c
PORK LIVER, sliced, lb. ....	22c
PICKLED PIG FEET, lb. ....	17c
FRANKFURTERS, lb. ....	32c
EMBASSY SALAD DRESSING, fine, quart ....	23c
Texas GRAPE-FRUIT, 46-oz. can ....	25c
YAMS or SWEET-POTATOES 5 lbs. ....	25c
Florida ORANGES 5 lbs. ....	35c
Florida GRAPEFRUIT 5 lbs. ....	35c

With a Buckeye In Congress...

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress, 7th Ohio District

The exceptionally fine progress made by the American Navy and its air forces in the South Pacific, coupled with the successful invasion of the Philippines by the Army units under General MacArthur, has created much optimism in Washington and has added to the belief of those in high places that the war against the Japanese will not be the long drawn out affair at first believed likely. A London announcement last week of the dispatching of a gigantic British fleet to the Pacific war zone was cheering news, for once the full force of the United Nations' power is turned against Japan victory will be certain and soon—probably within six months after the full scale Allied offensive is started.

Many letters are being received in Congressional offices from relatives of the fighting men who have been serving in the South Pacific for the past two years or more urging they be granted furloughs. Some of the letters are quite critical of members of Congress and imply the belief the national legislators are responsible for the situation. The facts are members of Congress have no authority or jurisdiction of any kind whatsoever over our military forces in time of war. The Constitution gives the president, as commander in chief, the sole authority to direct and control the activities of our fighting men. While the War Department has announced a general policy of granting furloughs, where possible, to men with more than eighteen months of foreign service, it has likewise announced that such furloughs cannot and will not be granted to many of the men having long terms of service in the Pacific sector because of pressing war needs—all in spite of the fact many members of Congress have been urging furloughs for the war-weary veterans, right or wrong—the responsibility for the present policy rests solely with the War Department and the commander-in-chief—not with Congress.

Now that the autumn frosts have come, and the fresh fruit and vegetable season is over so it is no longer possible to do much home canning, an announcement has been made by the War Food Administration that sugar supplies will soon become more plentiful so housewives will be able to obtain the sugar on their ration coupons they could not get when fresh fruits and vegetables were plentiful. The announcement from the bureaucratic officials in the War Food Administration failed to say whether they "planned it that way."

A year or so ago American newspapers and magazines, as well as radio programs, were filled with stories about the Alcan Highway—the great international road that was being constructed from the United States across Canada into Alaska, not only for the defense of Alaska, but also to open up that great northwest territory for settlement and development. Thousands of American soldiers and engineers were assigned to the task of building the highway under most difficult conditions. Somewhere between one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and fifty million dollars have already been expended on the Alcan Highway. Now it is being rumored about Washington the whole project will be abandoned soon after the war ends simply because neither the government of Canada nor its provinces wish to assume the responsibility and cost of maintaining the highway, which many contend, would not be economically feasible.

Congress will reconvene on November 14th, at which time one of the heaviest legislative schedules ever presented to a post-election session must be faced by the national law makers. Despite the unexpected fanatical resistance of the Nazi armies, the war in Europe is expected to come to an end before January—and certainly, at the worst, not later than next spring. Once peace comes in Eu-ropes America and the world face many reconversion and postwar problems upon which the Congress must legislate. As a result the next six or eight months will be among the most important in congressional history.

As this is written, very soon before the election, more uncertainty as to the outcome can be found in Washington than at any other similar time in political history, with the possible exception of 1916. While extravagant claims are being made by spokesmen for both parties, no one actually seems to know, for a certainty, just what is to happen on election day. However, everywhere it seems to be agreed that the silent vote—and there is a big one this year, will settle the issue of the presidency. The final results may be extremely close, although there are some indications, especially in the rural areas, a Republican sweep may be in the making. Most observers believe a Republican House and greatly increased Republican strength in the Senate is a certainty.

Carpenter Radio Service
Rear 220 Forest St.
Our Aim Is Your Aim—Satisfactory Service—
We Give 3 Day Service
We Service All Makes
30 Day Guarantee
Phone 31754

one who has taken an unmistakable stand. He said he will vote for and support the re-election of President Roosevelt. He will give some of his reasons in a 15-minute radio address tonight.

How much weight such pronouncements carry simply can't be measured. Nor can the influence of a number of prominent Democrats who have spoken and worked against the New Deal in variable degree.

Perhaps the most active of them is Senator W. Lee O'Daniel of

On-The-Fence Voters Worrying Politicians

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—

The running jump which landed Republican Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota on the Democratic side of the political fence has set the politicians to worrying anew about that mass of voters on top of the fence.

What the mass of independent voters are going to do or the amount of influence Democratic dissidents and Republican rebels are wielding is hard to gauge.

In borderline states, where a relatively few votes may swing the election, these factors are important.

Actually there have been few men high in the ranks of either party who have announced definitely that they will bolt. Ball is one who has taken an unmistakable stand. He said he will vote for and support the re-election of President Roosevelt. He will give some of his reasons in a 15-minute radio address tonight.

How much weight such pronouncements carry simply can't be measured. Nor can the influence of a number of prominent Democrats who have spoken and worked against the New Deal in variable degree.

Perhaps the most active of them is Senator W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas, whose family is publishing an anti-fourth term newspaper which bears his name and the imprint of his political thinking.

Yet O'Daniel hasn't come out and said: "I'm voting for Dewey." Rep. John M. Costello, California Democrat, and a member of the Dies committee investigating un-American activities, has announced he would support the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

Chairman Dies (D-Tex) has frequently denounced the Roosevelt administration.

Senator Ellison D. Smith, the 80-year-old South Carolinian also has been bucking a fourth term just as he did a third.

"Cotton Ed" Smith has been active to the extent that he called a meeting of anti-Roosevelt Democrats here last month to plan a campaign against the president's re-election.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds, (S. C.), who broke with the administration on foreign policies in 1937 and decided not to run again this year, also has battled the New Deal. But he says: "I have not announced how I shall vote and do not expect to do so."

Chairman Dies (D-Tex) has frequently denounced the Roosevelt administration.

Senator Ellison D. Smith, the 80-year-old South Carolinian also has been bucking a fourth term just as he did a third.

"Cotton Ed" Smith has been active to the extent that he called a meeting of anti-Roosevelt Democrats here last month to plan a campaign against the president's re-election.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds, (S. C.), who broke with the administration on foreign policies in

For STATE LEGISLATURE
Democratic Ticket
X Kenneth P. Mickle
Your Confidence and Support Appreciated

X FRED J. MILLER
FOR JUDGE
COURT OF APPEALS
• Presiding Judge of Municipal Court, Columbus, Ohio, past 18 years.
• Qualified by Experience
• Veteran World War I.
Non-Partisan
Judicial Ballot
Editorial, The Ohio State Journal, Oct. 19: "Judge Fred J. Miller for 20 years, Presiding Judge, Municipal Court, Columbus, Ohio, is a man of unquestioned ability and fitness for the office."
Editorial, The Columbus Dispatch: "Judge Fred J. Miller... has many personal qualities aside from his judicial qualifications which fully fit him for the position. His competency is a matter of record."
Miller for Judge Committee, Gerald E. McVey, Sec'y, Columbus, Ohio
Pol. Adv.

RE-ELECT

CLARENCE J. BROWN

BLANCHESTER, OHIO

A Tried and True Public Servant

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

The splendid record made by Clarence J. Brown in public service is well known to most citizens. A former Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, Secretary of State and Republican nominee for Governor, Clarence J. Brown has made an outstanding record in the Congress.

As a member of the all-important Rules Committee of the House of Representatives, as well as through service on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce, Public Health, Petroleum, Communications, Securities and Exchanges, Newsprint and Paper Supply, and Republican Steering and Strategy Committees, our Representative in Congress has been a powerful influence for good government and for safe and sound national legislation.

Let's keep a Good Man in Congress.

7th OHIO DISTRICT—REPUBLICAN TICKET

BROWN FOR CONGRESS COMMITTEE
(Pol. Adv.) R. B. Howard, Chairman, London, Ohio

FOUR GREAT AMERICANS!

TOM JOHN JIM BOB

Thomas E. DEWEY for President

John W. BRICKER
for Vice-President

James Garfield STEWART for Governor

Robert A. TAFT
for U. S. Senator

Keep The New Deal Out of Ohio!
Get The New Deal Out Of Washington!

VOTE REPUBLICAN

Election, Tuesday, November 7th, 1944

FAYETTE COUNTY REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
ROY CARR, Chairman.

+—Social Happenings—Personals—News of Interest to Women—+

25 Couples Are In Attendance At Dance Here

Wierd, grinning pumpkin faces greeted the twenty-five couples as they entered the door of the Washington Country Club, Monday evening, assembling for the annual half-times dance. Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Dewey were chairmen for the evening, and were ably assisted by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Limes, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, Judge and Mrs. Otis B. Core.

Throughout the spacious club lounge the committee had decorated the light fixtures with paper pumpkin faces and had arranged leaves below. Bowls of bittersweet were placed at vantage points on the mantel and the alcove, and gloriously colored autumn leaves were strewn at random about the lounge.

The committee had arranged an applause meter to determine the best-costumed guest and the prize was awarded to Mrs. Mary Palmer. During the course of dancing to the music of the juke box, Mr. W. L. O'Brien called a number of circles which were greatly enjoyed.

A door prize drawing was made and at midnight, Mrs. Hazel Devins served a seasonal and tempting snack lunch, bringing to a close a most delightful and informal evening of fun for the club members.

100 lbs. of waste paper makes 650 cartons for Army "K" rations. Keep your boys well-fed! Start saving waste paper!

By ANNE ADAMS
A shirtwaist frock's the mainstay of a wardrobe. Pattern 4668 is fashion wise, and as figure perfect for size 48 as for size 12!

Pattern 4668 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36 takes 3 yards 39-inch fabric.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern for personal or household decoration, TWENTY CENTS.

Send TWENTY CENTS in coin for these patterns to Record-Herald, 180, Pattern Dept., 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly SIZE NAME ADDRESS STYLE NUMBER.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS more for the Anne Adams Fall and Winter Pattern Book, full of smart, fabric-saving styles. Free pattern for hat and muff bag printed right in book.

sheer, run-resist!

HANES
no-seam stockings

Style No. 158—famous for its crepe texture that discourages runs. Looks sheer, yet gives lots of service. For campus or business wear.

WASHINGTON'S BETTER SHOE STORE

209 E. COURT ST.

R. Dale Wade Othel O. Wade

BUY U. S. WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Social Calendar

ROSEMARY DENNISON
Society Editor
TELEPHONE 6291

TUESDAY, OCT. 31
W.T.H. Class, of McNair Church, home of Mrs. Pauline Richardson, 7:30 P.M.
Shepherd's Bible Class of First Baptist Church, home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burnett, 7:30 P.M.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1
V.F.W. Auxiliary, in G.A.R. Hall, 8 P.M.

Woman's Guild of First Presbyterian Church, home of Mrs. Ormond Dewey, 2 P.M.

White Oak WSCS, home of Mrs. Clarence Rowe, Miami-Trace Road, 1:30 P.M. (slow time).

Madison Mills WSCS, home of Mrs. Leland Dorn, 2 P.M. Church Day at Grace Methodist Church, 11 A.M.

Alpha Circle (C.C.L.), home of Mrs. Frank Lentz, 732 Yeoman Street, 7:45 P.M. Mrs. Ora Middleton, assisting hostess.

THURSDAY, NOV. 2
WLW Mailbag Club, home of Mr. and Mrs. Chap Tillis, 805 E. Temple Street, hard-times social, 8 P.M.

Regular meeting of Marshall Grange, Jeffersonville, election of officers, 8 P.M. Friendship Circle, Bloomington Methodist Church, home of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rapp, supper, 7 P.M.

Marion P-T-A, at school-building, bring sandwiches, 8 P.M.

Fortnightly luncheon-bridge, Washington Country Club, Mrs. F. E. Hill, chairman; Mrs. E. P. Suntheimer, Mrs. J. Earl McLean, Mrs. M. J. Whitfield, 1 P.M.

Women's Missionary Society of the North Street Church of Christ meets with Mrs. Clifford Ervin at 2:15 P.M.

FRIDAY, NOV. 3
Staunton WSCS, home of Mrs. Willis Wike, S. Main Street, 2 P.M.

Open Circle Class, at Wayne Hall, potluck supper, 7:30 P.M.

New Martinsburg WCTU, home of Mrs. Etta Grace, 2 P.M.

Ladies of G.A.R., home of Miss Minnie Breakfield, 2:30 P.M.

MONDAY, NOV. 6
DAR, covered dish luncheon at Grace Methodist Church, 12:30. Mrs. James E. Kinney, guest speaker.

Masquerade Enjoyed At Guidi Home

The Robert Guidi residence was the scene of a jolly Halloween party entertained by Edith Guidi, when a number of friends were invited to the home for an evening of fortune telling, dancing and hilarious games.

Refreshments were served further carrying out the Halloween motif.

Those present were Lora Lee Enslin, Harriett Hamilton, Janie Spencer, Martha Engle, Pat Tracy, Evelyn Phillips, Sally Streats, Cynthia Fabb, Jean Howard, Donna Merritt, Jack Pyle, Don Hilly, Bill Andrews, Bob Craig, Dean Burden, Donald Campbell, Duane Knapp, Jack Cox and Charles Orr.

3PWC Hamburg Fry Is Held at Craig Cottage

The Craig cottage at Cedarhurst was the scene of a jolly hamburger fry, Monday evening, when around forty members of the Business and Professional Women's Club met there for an informal evening and short business session which was conducted by Mrs. Vernice Deafner.

Miss Helen Slavens and Miss Ruth Sexton, assisted by a corps of members, had charge of arrangements and carried out the plans for the supper. The outdoor oven was the center of attraction for all, the delicious odor of the cooking hamburger mingling and whetting all appetites.

The meal was served indoors around the large fireplace of the cottage, and after a highly enjoyable supper hour, Mrs. Deafner made several announcements. The district meeting will be held November nineteenth, in Cincinnati, and Mrs. Deafner has asked all the officers who can to attend the meeting. She also announced that Mrs. Elizabeth Devins will represent the club at the post-war planning conference to be held Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Informal visiting climaxed the many pleasures of the evening.

Four Honored At Dinner Here

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Surface honored the birthdays of Mr. Donald Surface, Mr. Merrill Hoppes and Mr. Jack Hoppes at a dinner, the occasion also being Miss Naomi Hoppes, who reports for active duty with the WAVES in the near future.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hoppes, Wendell Hoppes, Glen Hoppes, Winifred Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoppes, Jerry and Jacqueline Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. William McFadden, Johnny, Billy and Nancy McFadden, Russell Cardiff, Donald Surface, Jr. Holden, signalman third class, the host and hostess.

Newly-Weds Honored At Dinner on Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Spruance entertained Sunday with a dinner, honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, of Commercial Point, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sprinkle of Highland, both newly-married couples.

Those enjoying the dinner and afternoon of visiting which followed were Mrs. Homer Sprinkle, of Hillsboro; Mrs. Mary F. Spruance, of Marshall; Mr. James Lucas, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron, of this city.

Furlough Guest Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans were hosts and hostesses at a dinner, Sunday, which honored Pvt. Homer Evans and Mrs. Evans, the affair being held at the Leo Evans' home on East Temple Street. Pvt. Evans is here on furlough from Fort Bliss, Texas, and upon his return will be transferred to Camp Carson, Colo.

Also honored at the dinner was Kenneth Evans, who reports Wednesday for duty with the navy.

JUST A FRIENDLY CHAT

Adam and Eve disobeyed in the Garden of Eden, by eating the forbidden fruit. This very same fruit is being passed in abundance today, it is easy to get a bite of this fruit and if we are not on guard we may partake of it unaware. Satan is not the degraded being that the world usually pictures him with horns, hoofs and a tail. If this be true he would be engaged in degrading man. No where in Scripture is he so pictured. He is very well pleased to have men believe him to be such a being, for he knows that men will not recognize him or his works when they appear, and thus his deception is complete. Satan deceives and deceives, he wears a full dress suit, he is bright, nervous, cunning, clever, sly, shrewd and strong. It is time well spent to learn something of this sinister person—if we are ignorant of the nature of the enemy, we are ignorant of his devices. He tempted Christ and he is tempting us today in the same manner. One is safe in saying that hardly one person in ten thousand realizes that the greater part of civilization with its education, its benevolent institutions, its political activities and its religious works are Satanic. Remember that a thing does not need to be vile or wicked to be Satanic. It may be ever so highly esteemed among men but, if it is not what the Lord ordained and done for his pleasure it is Satanic. Satan purposes to exalt man to a highness of God, on an equality with God, without coming by the way of the cross—his plan is to make man like God without Christ. God's plan is as 'He tells us in 1 John 3:2, is to make us like Christ. Sin entered his world by disbelief and disobedience, it can be overcome only by belief and obedience, this is the Bible teaching throughout its pages. Disobedience is as fatal today as it was in the Garden of Eden. Obedience is as necessary—obedience is the path to safety. As all whom Adam represents were condemned by his sin, so all whom Christ represents are alive forever by His righteousness.

OFFICE T. STOOKEY

Personals

Lt. and Mrs. F. L. Preston have arrived here from Athens to spend the week as guests of Mrs. Preston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks. Lt. Preston is on 30 day leave, having spent many months on active duty at sea. Miss Marjorie Sparks has returned to Cincinnati after spending the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks.

Miss Suzanne Willis, who had visited here with her parents, for a few weeks, left from Washington, D. C., where she spent the weekend, for her home in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Mrs. Tranquillo Del Ponte was the Monday evening dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nagel and daughters, Virginia and Betty. Miss Betty Nagel, who has accepted a position in New York City and who will leave soon for that city, was honored at the dinner by her parents.

Mrs. Curtis Grooms of Lynchburg and Mrs. Russell Clements of Martinsville, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Coulter and daughter, Rosemary, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Lindsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe and family were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsey of Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Southwick of Springfield, were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Southwick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harve Hammon, of near this city.

Mrs. E. J. McIntosh has returned to her home in Columbus after spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Mann and family.

Mrs. Harford L. Turvy of near London, formerly of this city, has returned from Miami, Fla., where she visited points of interest.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Kendrick and son, David, and Miss Beulah French were Mr. and Mrs. Oris Knapp and son, Donald.

YOU NEED HIM!
HE NEEDS YOU!
BUY WAR BONDS

COAL CASH: Have you laid in your winter's coal? Better fill up now. You can buy with cash at a good price and then pay for it later on convenient terms. Phone us or stop in for a handy budget loan to buy coal, pay bills or for any other personal needs.

Enjoy Streamlined City Loan Financing

THE CITY LOAN

and Savings Company

141 E. Court St. Phone 2542

Joy Givers Have Hallowe'en Party

The Joy Givers Class of the First Presbyterian Church held a Hallowe'en masquerade party at the home of Arleen Mann, who had decorated throughout for the occasion, with suggestions of the weird holiday of merrymaking and pranks. Various prizes were awarded for the entertaining games conducted by the hostess, the prizes going to Sue Paul, Barbara Browning, Judy Rost and Donna Craig.

Seasonal refreshments were served at the close of the evening to the guests who were Carolyn Lou Bidwell, Donna Craig, Judy Rost, Barbara Browning, Patty Chaney, Marilyn Van Voorhis, Sharon Rettig, Carolyn Turnpseed, Helen Orfanos, Betty Rose Orfanos, Martha Parrett, Marzanna Lynn Turvy, and the class teacher, Virginia Ann Bidwell.

Hallowe'en Party Held At Wilson Home Here

Joan Carroll Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Katherine McCrea Wilson, was hostess to a number of friends at a Hallowe'en party, and an evening of games were hilariously enjoyed, at the close of which tempting refreshments were served.

Those present were Colleen Hilt, Nedra Hilt, Portia Brownell, Roxie Rost, Joan Fener, Patty Bennett, Patty Shop, Patty Litz, Beverly Baer, Sally Reif, Carol Kay Ellis and Nancy Lee Workman.

DEWEY PLANS TO WIND UP WITH SPECIFIC PROGRAM; BRICKER BACK IN OHIO

(Continued From Page One)

emphasis on small business and jobs."

This outline indicated the New York governor planned specific proposals for postwar employment, a problem with which he has contended the Democratic administration is not equipped to cope. In almost every one of his informal talks to railway station crowds in all sections of the nation the candidate has repeated the charge that there were 10,000,000 persons unemployed in 1940 and "it took a war to get jobs."

Bricker Back Home
Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for vice-president, arrived home in Columbus at 7:30 A. M. (Eastern War Time) today after a 10,000 mile campaign trip to the west.

It had been one of the governor's longest absences from his office here since he became governor almost six years ago.

After devoting a day to matters of state, he will leave again tomorrow for a three-day jaunt through the east before winding up his drive for votes Saturday in his home state of Ohio.

The Ohio governor, ending a tour of 22 states, remarked that he was "much more encouraged" than when he left Columbus, on October 1.

Pleased by Enthusiasm

He said he was especially pleased over "the enthusiasm, the strength and the efficiency" of GOP organizations he observed in the western states.

Bricker's windup speech in Detroit last night, where he sought to show a tieup of the Communists, the Political Action Committee and the New Deal, brought out the largest indoor crowd he has faced in his bid for the No. 2 office in the nation's government.

The visiting candidate, after an introduction by Gov. Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, recited "facts" which he said "conclusively prove that Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal are in the hands of the radicals and the Communists."

Analyzing what he described as "the actual working relationship" between the PAC, the Communists and the federal government, Bricker said the Dies Congressional Committee in an investigation of unAmerican activities produced the names of 1,124 federal employees "who were members of subversive organizations."

TRAFFIC DEATH RATE ON DECLINE, BELIEF

National Safety Council Says Toll May Be Less This Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The National Safety Council, which records the nation's accidents but works to prevent them, gave a mild pat on the collective backs of the country's drivers and walkers, the council said, and if the improved traffic cannot continue, it added, there is a better than even chance the 1944 toll will be less than 1943.

In September, the traffic deaths decreased 10 percent compared with the same month last year—1,880 against 2,080. This brought the toll for the first nine months of 1944 to 16,360, four percent greater than the nine month total of 15,720 last year.

The council pointed out that despite increased traffic deaths in the early months of the year, there was every indication that only unexpected changes in traffic volume can send the 1944 death toll above 23,000—400 below last year's mark. It said for the first eight months this year mileage was about 2 percent greater than in 1943.

WAR BONDS
MEAN MORE THAN A GOOD INVESTMENT

Gold Standard

Wicked gleaming huge gold metal buttons make this two-piece your most valuable asset. With a "wear-me-open" or "wear-me-closed" collar jacket and just-right three-quarter sleeves. Two box pleats. $14.95. Junior sizes 9 to 17.

NICKI'S

DOROTHY L. WEST

Republican

Candidate for Clerk of Courts

At the Election

Tuesday,

November 7

Your Support Will

Be Appreciated

(Pol. Adv.)

BLANKETS

As seen in the October issue of
GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

Now is the time to buy blankets!

Beautiful, warm, new Chathams are here...

And good housekeeping means buying carefully, wisely, and only what you really need, these days. Although we have lovely, standard Chatham Blankets right now, this famous manufacturer is still busy making thousands of military blankets for our armed services. So take stock of your actual needs early this year, and choose the Chatham that fits your requirements.

SUTTON, 25% wool, plain colors..... 5.95
MARLEY, 50% wool plain colors..... 7.95
WOOLWICH, 100% wool, plain colors..... 10.75

STEEN'S

9.90

YOUR NEW DRESS THIS FALL
A Madge Davio Frock

Whether you choose a cardigan two-piece, a tailored shirtwaister or a gently draped princess design, you'll love the new softness of detailing, the wonderful pastels and brilliant colors. Cleverly trimmed with giant fabric buttons, shining nail-heads or gay embroidery. Lacy or smooth rayon mixtures. Sizes 12 to 20.

DEMOCRATIC SENATE AND REPUBLICAN HOUSE LIKELY

GAINS BY GOP HAVE BEEN MADE IN 'OFF' YEARS

Neither Party Expected To Pile Up Big Majority For Next Congress

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—The next congress may consist of a Democratic senate and a Republican house, as most forecasts have it today.

But the Democrats believe they will retain and strengthen their slim house control because it's a presidential election year, and the Republicans say they have a fighting chance to win a senate majority.

Ballots are to be marked next Tuesday for 1,025 candidates running for 35 senate and 432 house seats. (There were 435 house members, but three—all Republicans—were reelected in Maine Sept. 12).

Candidates for the house number 919, including 422 Democrats and 374 Republicans, with the remainder wearing minor party labels. Fifty-one Democratic, six Republican, and one American labor candidates are unopposed.

There are 106 senatorial nominees for the 32 full six-year terms and three unexpired terms. Thirty-five of them are Democrats and 33 Republicans. One, Senator George (D-Ga) is unopposed.

The present house is made up of 214 Democrats and 212 Republicans, with five vacancies in seats formerly held by Democrats, and four minor party members. A numerical majority is 218.

Republicans have made net gains of 80 to 44 in the off-year election of 1938 and 1942, respectively, but they lost seven to the Democrats in the presidential election year of 1940. That's why administration leaders predict an increase in Democratic seats this time.

But Republicans point out that all they need to do is hold their present strength and pick up six seats more to control and organize the new house.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, chairman of the committee campaigning for house GOP candidates, thinks his party may pick up a net of 60 seats. He says he sees chances to take over 75 member-ships now held by Democrats, while "no more than 12 or 15 Republican house members seem to be having any serious difficulty."

Halleck's opposite number for the Democrats, Rep. Dreyer of Virginia, says indications are the Democrats will gain 20 to 40 new seats, while Speaker Rayburn, up for reelection himself as a Texas Democrat, says he expects his party to gain 25 to 40. Rayburn says he bases this partly on the fact that the president is on the ticket this year.

The senate picture is somewhat different. Three the Democrats are in firmer control with 58 seats against 37 for the Republicans and one Progressive. Forty-nine is a majority.

Of the 35 seats to be filled next Tuesday 22 are now held by Democrats and there will be 36 holdovers. Thirteen Republican seats are at stake, with 24 holdovers.

Thus, the Democrats need only to win 13 of the 35 contests to retain control, or only six outside the solid south where seven Democratic incumbents are up for reelection.

The Republicans will have to win 25 out of the 35 senate elections to gain a clear majority in the new senate—49. They might do it with 24 victories provided Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), not up this year, voted with the Republicans to organize that branch.

Former Senator John G. Townsend, Jr., of Delaware, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, says his party will reelect all 13 incumbents on the ballot and take 10 seats from the Democrats, for a total of 23.

He says he is "confident" of electing Republican senators to seats now held by Democratic Senators Gillette, Iowa; D. Worth Clark, Idaho; Scott W. Lucas, Illinois; Samuel D. Jackson, Indiana; Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma; Robert F. Wagner, New York; Arthur Walsh, New Jersey; Bennett Champ Clark, Missouri; Elbert D. Thomas, Utah; and Homer T. Bone, Washington. The two Clarks were defeated for renomination, Jackson is candidate for governor in his state, Walsh did not run for the nomination, and Bone has been named to the federal bench.

Townsend says the Republicans also have "excellent chances" of picking up new seats from California, Kentucky, and Maryland, and there is a "possibility" of adding another in a state not designated.

"If the tremendous trend toward the Republican party continues," he asserts, "the Republican party will elect all the Republican incumbents and a sufficient number of others to control the organization of the senate in January."

Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, head of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, predicts that the Democratic

Sabina Community

Advisory Council

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snider opened their home Tuesday evening for the October meeting of the Farm Bureau Advisory Council, with 13 members present.

Chairman Nelson Case presided at the business session.

Arthur Simmons led the discussion of the evening on the subject "Attack of Organized Business on Co-operative by N. T. A."

All enjoyed social conversation during the serving of a delightful refreshment course by Mrs. Snider and her daughter, Miss Jiridena.

Meeting adjourned to meet the fourth Tuesday in November at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Waddle on the Sabina-Greenfield Road.

Honors Ensign Jessup
Mr. and Mrs. David Morris entertained Wednesday with a delightful pot luck family dinner, honoring Ensign Orus Jessup and little daughter, Lynn of Pensacola, Fla.

Those present to enjoy the day with the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morris of Sabina, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morris and Mrs. Ollie Lee Stanbus, of Leesburg, Mrs. Thurman Huff, Mrs. William Truett of Columbus, Mrs. Minnie Martin, of Dayton, Mrs. Stanley Rolfe and sons, of Greenfield, Mr. Ralph Morris and daughter, Mary Lou of Hillsboro and Mrs. Charles Kreitley and Deborah of Warren.

Returns From Hospital
Joe Lewis, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis, colored who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis was returned to his home here from University Hospital, Sunday and is reported improving nicely.

Rev. Dwight Custis III
Relatives here have received word of the sudden illness of Rev. Dwight Custis, at Youngstown.

Rev. Custis, a brother of Mr. Heber Custis near Wilmington is well known here where he has visited quite often. Word came Wednesday that he is slightly improved at the Youngstown Hospital.

W. C. T. U. Meets
Mrs. C. W. Custis was gracious hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the W. C. T. U. for their October meeting, with Mrs. Forrest Thornhill as co-hostess.

Rev. J. C. Williams was a welcomed guest.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. C. Williams, the vice president, Mrs. H. H. Griffith presided.

The song "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" opened the meeting. Devotions and prayer were given by Mrs. Thornhill.

Mrs. Howard Grice, secretary pro tem read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll. She also gave the treasurers report.

Committees reported on various lines of work.

majority will be maintained. He foresees a "tough fight" for reelection of Senator Guy Gillette (D-Iowa), but expects other Democratic incumbents to pull through.

There is a "possibility," he adds, of another Democratic gain in Pennsylvania, where Senator James J. Davis, Republican, is opposed for reelection by Rep. Francis J. Myers. And, he says, he would not be surprised to see his party pick up an additional seat either in Massachusetts, New Hampshire or Connecticut.

The Republicans will have to win 25 out of the 35 senate elections to gain a clear majority in the new senate—49. They might do it with 24 victories provided Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), not up this year, voted with the Republicans to organize that branch.

Former Senator John G. Townsend, Jr., of Delaware, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, says his party will reelect all 13 incumbents on the ballot and take 10 seats from the Democrats, for a total of 23.

He says he is "confident" of electing Republican senators to seats now held by Democratic Senators Gillette, Iowa; D. Worth Clark, Idaho; Scott W. Lucas, Illinois; Samuel D. Jackson, Indiana; Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma; Robert F. Wagner, New York; Arthur Walsh, New Jersey; Bennett Champ Clark, Missouri; Elbert D. Thomas, Utah; and Homer T. Bone, Washington. The two Clarks were defeated for renomination, Jackson is candidate for governor in his state, Walsh did not run for the nomination, and Bone has been named to the federal bench.

Townsend says the Republicans also have "excellent chances" of picking up new seats from California, Kentucky, and Maryland, and there is a "possibility" of adding another in a state not designated.

"If the tremendous trend toward the Republican party continues," he asserts, "the Republican party will elect all the Republican incumbents and a sufficient number of others to control the organization of the senate in January."

Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, head of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, predicts that the Democratic

The president spoke on "Building a Wall for the Home Front." Other readings were given by Mrs. Thornhill, Mrs. F. G. Chance, Mrs. Carey Persinger and Mrs. C. W. Custis.

The meeting was discussed with prayer by Rev. Williams.

Following a social hour the hostess and her assistant served a delicious dessert course and coffee.

Beauty Shop Moves
Mrs. Fanchon Swingley Wilson will move her beauty shop from the Thorpe room to their newly purchased home on East Washington Street in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have bought the Craig home where the Homer Fanchon reside and will take possession the first week in November.

Receives Letter From Son
Mrs. Myra Moore received a letter from her son, Alvin S. Moore saying he is well and has been promoted to Cpl. and transferred from the 79th Air Service Group to the 17th Service Squadron and is now in England.

While with the 79th Air Service Group, he won the bronze star for meritorious duty.

He is expecting a furlough soon and hopes to visit Scotland, where he has a number of friends in the service. He also relates several of the Yanks are marrying and will bring back their wives when the war is over.

He says he is perfectly satisfied, but hopes that it will soon be over so he can return to the dear old U. S. A. He likes the change he has made, and says food is better, and a tea wagon serves all with sandwiches, etc. before retiring.

His address now is Cpl. Alvin S. Moore, 17th Service Sqd. A. S. N. 15340561, A. P. O. 558, c/o Postmaster New York City, New York.

Family Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Grice and children were guests at a farewell dinner party at the home of his brother, Harry E. Grice and family at Greenfield, Wednesday evening.

The dinner being given in honor of their son, Lewis E. Grice, who has served in the U. S. Navy the past two years, but is leaving soon for overseas service.

The family dinner was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Pvt. Hussey Wounded
Mrs. Alma Reid Hussey of Sabina received a telegram from the War Department Tuesday saying her husband, Pvt. John W. Hussey was seriously wounded in action in Italy, Oct. 2nd.

Pvt. Hussey was inducted into the Army February 8th, 1944 and received 17 weeks of basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla. and went overseas in July. This was the first word his family had received concerning Pvt. Hussey since Sept. 28th.

Attend Funeral
Those attending the funeral of Mr. Charles F. Wilson from out-of-town at the Littleton Funeral Home Sunday were Miss Geraldine Wilson and Mrs. Mary Cooper, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hiller of Dayton, Mrs. Lawrence Custis, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilkins of Martinsville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tomlinson, Xenia, S-Sgt. and Mrs. Dwight Morris, Miss Grace Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Langdon of Springfield, Mrs. Ida Hodson and daughter, Otta, Mr. and Opening Wednesday at The State Theater is "Dixie" starring Bing Crosby, Dorothy Lamour, Marjorie Reynolds and Billy De Wolfe. This picture is of the first minstrel days with 12 great song hits and the picture is filmed in glorious technicolor.

Mrs. R. G. Bock, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Bock, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bock, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cline and Thurman Cline of Bowersville, Mrs. Helen Howard of Troy, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fenner, James-town, Mrs. Martha Marks, Miss Belle Webb, Mrs. Carrie Deere, Mrs. Clall Cline, Washington C. H., Mrs. Clall Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John Yarger, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Demery, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flint of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodland, Samantha, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cline, Leesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curtis and son, Portsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dunlap and son, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Dunlap and Mrs. Ida Maxwell, Corning, O.

Hostess To Club
Mrs. L. V. Runyan was a gracious hostess Saturday evening when she entertained her two table bridge club for a delightful two course luncheon, with table decorations, suggestive of Halloween.

The happy hour around the tables, when she was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Warren Rockwell of Dayton, was one of many pleasures.

Bridge games were gaily contested and when scores were tallied, high awards were received by Mrs. Darrell Brakefield and Mrs. John Barns. Others present were Mrs. Lawrence Gessner and Mrs. Clarence J. Morris of Wilmington, Mrs. Walter Stackhouse and Mrs. Howard Barnes.

Sunday Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Winfield entertained Sunday with a lovely dinner party. Their guests included Mayor and Mrs. Alan McVey, Mrs. Clarice Hudson and daughter, Miss Norma Lee.

Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Kelso, Mrs. William Kelso and Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs.

Francis Dalton and daughter, Margaret Ann in Xenia.

Personals
Mr. J. C. Phelps spent the weekend in Piqua with Prof. and Mrs. Paul Fitzwater, and daughters, Janie and Julie.

Mrs. Phelps returned home with him, having spent several days there with their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Bond of New Vienna spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bond and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bernard and Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Ellis were dinner guests Sunday of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Richard Dolph and Mr. Dolph in Oxford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Taylor and Charles Spurgeon enjoyed a trip to Ripley, Sunday.

Little Barbara Boyd visited last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snider returning to Cincinnati Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Waddle were business visitors in Columbus Monday.

Mrs. Warren Rockwell, of Dayton spent the weekend with her parents, Prof. and Mrs. L. V. Runyan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burris of Washington C. H. were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray.

Mr. William Gantner, of Cleveland came Saturday for a visit this week with his daughter, Mrs. Roger Miller and Mr. Miller.

Miss Janet Fenner, Miss Jiridena Snider and Miss Mary Lou Lightner spent Wednesday evening in Wilmington.

Mrs. J. C. Williams is in Cincinnati this week attending the Ohio Conference of W. S. C. S.

Mrs. Alice Yeazel has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mills in Cedarville.

Mrs. Louise Patterson is visiting this week with Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Bain at New Concord.

Cadet Nurses Mondas Dun and

POET'S CORNER

This poem was written to Mrs. Nellie Coe in lieu of a letter by her son, Cpl. Roy E. Coe, Jr., who is somewhere in Italy. The "letter-poem" was V-mailed to her.

Dearest Mother:
Can't say a thing.
The censor's to blame
Just say that I'm well
And sign my name.
Can't tell where I sailed from Can't mention the date
And can't even number
The meals that I ate.
Can't say where we're going
Don't know where we'll land
Couldn't inform you
If met by a band.
Can't mention the weather
Can't say if there's rain
All military secrets
Must secrets remain.
Can't have a flashlight
To guide me at night
Can't smoke a cigar
Except out of sight.
Can't keep a diary
For such is a sin.
Can't keep the envelopes
That your letters come in Can't say for sure folks
Just what I can write.
So I'll call this a letter
And close with "Good Night."
S-Sgt. William H. Johnson (Overseas)

Margaret Dakin of Columbus spent the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dun, and Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Dakin. Mr. Dun returned with them Sunday evening to Columbus.

Miss Jeanne Riddle and Miss Mary Lou Riley of Columbus were weekend guests of Mrs. Elmira Moore.

Buy War Stamps Every Pay Day.

GET RELIEF FROM PILES

Simple piles need not wreck and torture you with maddening itch, burn and irritation. Stuart's Pyramid Suppositories bring quick, welcome relief. Their grand medication means real comfort, reduces strain, helps tighten relaxed membranes, gently lubricates and softens. Protective and antichilling, so easy to use. Get genuine Stuart's Pyramid Suppositories at your drug store without delay—6 for $1.25—on maker's money-back guarantee.

ESCAPE CRASH
CIRCLEVILLE — Dick Lovensheimer and Richard Strawser were treated for cuts and bruises after an N. and W. passenger train struck the auto in which they were riding at the Scioto and Ohio street crossing.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps.

PUBLIC SALE

Located 12 miles south of Springfield, Ohio, 3 1/2 miles west of South Charleston, 1 mile east of Selma on State Route 42 at the A. E. Wildman homestead, on

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1944

At 10 O'clock

14—HEAD OF HORSES—14

Consisting of 2 bay mares, 11 years old; 3 roan geldings, 9 years old; 1 roan gelding, 8 years old; 3 roan geldings, 5 years old; 1 roan gelding, 11 years old; 1 roan mare, 8 years old; 1 sorrel gelding, 7 years old; 1 bay saddle mare, 8 years old; 1 Shetland pony.

119—HEAD OF CATTLE—119

Consisting of 48 head of pure bred Angus cows, 2 to 4 years old; 33 spring, bull and heifer calves; 15 yearling Angus heifers; 16 yearling Angus steers; 2 Hereford cows; 4 Jersey and Guernsey milk cows, milking heavy and re-bred; one 3-year-old registered Angus bull.

220—HEAD OF HOGS—220

Consisting of 9 Hampshire bred sows; 150 hogs weighing from 80 to 140 lbs.; 60 pigs, weighing from 40 to 70 lbs.; 1 Duroc boar.

155—HEAD OF SHEEP—155

Consisting of 150 3-year-old black faced Montana ewes; 5 pure-bred Shropshire bucks.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

Consisting of 2 McCormick-Deering Little Genius breaking plows, fertilizer attachment for plows; 2 McCormick-Deering tractor discs; 2 horse discs, 6 and 7 ft.; 1 John Deere corn planter with fertilizer attachment; 1 John Deere corn planter with fertilizer attachment and tongue truck; 4 2-row corn cultivators; 1 Superior 12-7 grain drill; 1-horse grain drill; 10-ft. McCormick-Deering power binder; 3 mowing machines, dump rake and buck rake; cultipacker; 2 lime spreaders; end-gate seeder; hammer mill and 2 burr mills; No. 500 Blizzard ensilage cutter, potato planter and digger; harrows; 61-row corn cultivators; 3 gang plows; 5 sulky plows; 3 walking plows; alfalfa drill; corn sled; 2 box-bed wagons; 1 iron wheel wagon; 6 flat top wagons; roller; power corn sheller; hand corn sheller; platform scales; gasoline tank on wheels; slip scoop; Phaeton; 2 carriages; buggy harness; ox yokes; old wooden hay rake; 12 sides of harness; collars, bridles, lines, etc. Many other articles too numerous to mention.

Twenty-five 5x6 hog boxes; 1 lot of hurdles; 5, 8, 10 and 12 ft. lengths; 25 sheep racks; 2 Smidley hog feeders.

FEED—Alfalfa, Mixed Hay, Straw, Oats

1200 bales mixed timothy and alfalfa hay; 300 bales mixed clover and timothy hay; 60 tons mixed clover and timothy hay; 5 tons 2nd cutting loose alfalfa; 1500 bales straw; 900 bushels oats.

TERMS OF SALE—CASH

W. W. WILDMAN, Agent

Weikert and Gordon Auctioneers. Phone, Cedarville 6-1522

PUBLIC SALE

(Closing Out)

Having sold the farm, and quit farming, we, the undersigned, will sell our livestock and farm equipment at the farm, 2 1/2 miles west of Madison Mills, 5 miles east of Bloomingburg, on the Jones Road, at the Doc Allen Farm.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2

(Commencing Promptly at 11:00 A. M.)

The following to-wit:

3—HORSES AND MULES—3

One pair of smooth mouthed mules, good workers; one gray 10-year-old mare, good worker and due to foal in February, (season paid).

10—CATTLE—10

One roan cow, just fresh, calf at side, this is a five gallon per day cow; one 6-year-old dark Jersey cow, calf recently vealed; one roan cow, 6 years old, calf recently vealed; one red cow, 4 years old, to freshen in December; one dark white face cow, 8 years old, a great milker and giving a good flow of milk at the present time; one 3-year-old roan heifer with large calf at side; one brindle cow, to freshen by November 15th. These cows have been Bang tested and all cows safely with calf, dates announced on sale day.

29—SHEEP—29

Six good yearling ewes; 23 ewes 2 to 4 years old.

IMPLEMENTS

One Farmall tractor with allied equipment; one 12-inch International plow, good one; one International tractor disc; one 12-7 Thomas grain drill with tractor hitch; 7-foot McCormick binder arranged for tractor; one John Deere corn planter with fertilizer attachment; one John Deere side delivery rake, extra good; one sulky rake; one John Deere side delivery rake, extra new; one Letz feed grinder with deacker, fine condition; two feed sleds; one John Deere roller bearing wagon with rack; one iron wheel wagon; horse disc; extra good iron drag; two wooden drags; Dutch Uncle sulky plow; two walking breaking plows, one almost new; one Ohio single row cultivator; land roller; double and single shovel plows; five tooth cultivator; one set of real good breeching harness; some chain harness; halters, bridles, lines; shovels, forks, hoes, chains; shop equipment consisting of vise and large assortment of good hand tools; other articles not mentioned.

MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES

Five individual hog houses; one 10x14 hog house; two good self feeders; hog fountain; several hog troughs; several metal feed drums; two oil tanks with spigots; several 8-foot, 12-foot and 14-foot hog hurdles; a lot of 1x4 lumber; corn sheller attached on drum; one new 12-foot farm gate; one extra good 10x12 brooder house; about 30 rods of 3" hog fence (one-way); 35 steel posts; 20 locust posts; roll of barbed wire; Mother-Nature brooder; Buckeye brooder; Buckeye brooder stove; lard press; sausage grinder; iron kettle; 50 lbs. of stock molasses; tree pruners; wagon jack; fence stretchers; single wire stretchers; good block and tackle; a lot of grain sacks; one picket corn crib; one 410 gauge shotgun with one and one half box of shells.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS—Including a good heater; tables; chairs; ice box; benches; and many other household articles not mentioned.

HAY AND STRAW—100 bales of extra good pure clover hay up and without rain; 60 bales stubble clover hay; 25 bales of dry wheat straw.

TERMS—CASH

Lunch served by Ladies of the Madison Mills Church.

CLYDE FREDERICK — O. L. (DOC) ALLEN

M. W. Eckle, Auct. Albert Schmidt, Clerk

PUBLIC SALE

CLOSING OUT

On the Barthelmas farm, on the Dublin Hill Road, 2 miles north-west of Williamsport and 7 miles east of New Holland, on

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2

Beginning at 12 o'clock, the following property:

2—HORSES—2

One brown horse, weight 1800. One bay horse, weight 1800.

16—CATTLE—16

One milk cow, 9 years old, with calf by side. One cow, 2 years old, with calf by side. One Hereford and Shorthorn cow, to be fresh in December. Five Hereford cows, 2 to 6 years old, with early spring calves. One Hereford heifer, coming 2 years old.

35—SHEEP—35

Thirty-four breeding ewes; 1 open wool buck, 2 years old, a good one.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

One Farmall (reg.) tractor, high compression and recently overhauled; 1 A. C. 5-ft. combine, complete for all type of work; 1 Superior grain drill with fertilizer attachment and power lift; 2 Farmall tractor cultivators, one regular and one 221-G; 1 Oliver two bottom 14-inch tractor breaking plow; 1 I.H.C. double disc harrow; 1 Dunham cultipacker; 1 Dunham culti-hoe; 1 New Idea manure spreader; 1 John Deere single-row cultivator; 1 5-shovel cultivator; 1 John Deere corn planter with soybean attachment; 1 new 4 McCormick mower; 1 drag, 14-ft.; 1 Troy wagon with flat bed; 1 iron-wheel wagon with flat bed; 1 double set of breeching harness.

One CHEVROLET TRUCK (1933 model), long wheelbase, with grain bed and stock rack—good tires.

MISCELLANEOUS

Six Smidley farrowing units (boxes, pens and feeders); 1 Smidley six-hole feeder; 3 small Smidley feeders; 1 oak feeder for 10x12; 2 hog boxes, 7 1/2x12; 3 feed boxes; 60 rods hog fence; 50 steel posts; 60 rods barbed wire; 20 10-ft. hog troughs; 1 brooder house, 8x10; 1 Jamesway oil brooder stove; 1 Fair

CITY SHROUDED IN DENSE SMOKE FROM CITY DUMP

Complaints Against Dump Nuisance Grow Due to Conditions

Once more a large part of the city was enveloped in heavy, foul-smelling smoke during Monday night and part of Tuesday, as result of the city dump being on fire with a series of columns of smoke arising from a wide area on the dump.

Due to the fact that the dump is used for disposing of everything from garbage to dead dogs, the smoke not only is irritating and a menace to health, but the odor is most offensive and has resulted in widespread criticism.

When attention of City Manager W. L. Stambaugh was called to the conditions Tuesday morning, he said he would visit the dump and plan to have the auxiliary pumper use a suction line to obtain water from Paint Creek, if possible, and efforts made to extinguish the fire.

Stambaugh said that he had issued orders to the caretaker not to set the dump on fire, but time after time fire has occurred on the dump, and many times it has been necessary to send fire fighting equipment to the place to extinguish the flames.

Residents of the eastern part of the city have complained repeatedly of the badly neglected dump, which not only gives off a most offensive odor, but produces volumes of obnoxious smoke, and is a harbor for great numbers of rats.

Stambaugh said Tuesday that the dump should be located outside of the city and cared for in such a manner that it would not be a source of annoyance to citizens.

A few years ago plans were made to place the dump on the south end of the Sewage Disposal grounds which are owned by the city, but this plan has never been carried out.

JOSEPH BROWN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

He Had Been a Member of Eagles Lodge 40 Years

Joseph Brown, 69, died at 5 A. M. Tuesday at the Fayette Rest Home here. He had been in ill health and a patient in the home for 14 months. He was seriously ill for the past two weeks.

A native Fayette Countian, Brown had lived here all his life. He had been a member of the Eagle's lodge for 40 years.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. C. M. Beach of Bournesville; a niece, Mrs. Arthur Schroder of Cincinnati and a nephew, Frank Brown, of Washington C. H.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2:30 P. M. at the Klevor Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

PASSED SCHOOL BUS: DRIVER GIVEN FINE

Appearing before Justice of the Peace George Worrell, Monday afternoon, Arthur Engle, Leesburg, paid $10 and costs on a charge of passing a school bus while it was stopped along the highway while hauling school children.

Although he pleaded guilty to the charge Engle told the court that he saw the school bus, slowed down to stop, and saw a motion in the bus which he took to be a motion to proceed, and he did so. He said if he had not seen the motion he would have stopped as he had always done.

ARREST YOUNGSTERS

WILMINGTON — For throwing tomatoes at autos and damaging property, four juvenils were placed in the city jail and later fined.

County Courts

DIVORCE GRANTED

Rose Roberts, in Common Pleas Court, has been granted a divorce from Leslie Roberts on grounds of gross neglect of duty. She was restored to her maiden name of Rose Mitchell.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

William Wrobel, 43, farmer, Bloomingburg, and Mildred Philip, 37, city.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Orlan J. Rodgers, deceased, to Myrtle Walker, et. al., by certificate, 31.47 acres, Wayne township.

Miriam Cory deceased, by certificate to Arnilda Cory, 438.90 acres, Wayne township.

Webber C. French to Ethel K. Slagle, lot 23, Baker addition.

PLANS FINISHED FOR PEACE MEET AT CHURCH HERE

One of Three Speakers Will Address Student Body At WHS Thursday

With virtually completed plans for the interdenominational peace conference at the First Presbyterian Church Thursday, leaders here are anticipating the coming of the team of three speakers, Rev. Harold B. Twining, county chairman, said today.

Besides the two sessions at the church, Rev. R. G. Scully, one of the team and pastor of the Northside Methodist Church of Cincinnati, will speak to the student body of the high school Thursday morning. Stephen C. Brown, high school principal, has cooperated in making arrangements for an assembly program.

Afternoon and evening sessions are planned at the church headquarters. At 2 P.M. and 7:30 P.M. four addresses will be presented. Subjects scheduled are: "What kind of a world do we want?"

"What about sovereignty and world government?" "Social and religious hopes of the world we live in" and "What can the church do about it?"

Rev. C. L. Johnson, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ in Columbus and Rev. Kenneth S. Leary, pastor of the Van Wert Methodist Church, are to bring the addresses, although it is not known now which man will have which subject, Rev. Twining said.

Members of the county Ministerial Association will conduct brief devotional periods, it is said.

This conference is one of 70 similar ones held throughout Ohio between October 23 and November 3. Special efforts have been made to secure the attendance of not only pastors, Sunday school superintendents and teachers and church officers but of all who are interested in plans for a world in which peace and not war shall be supreme, Rev. Twining said.

Members of the county Ministerial Association will conduct brief devotional periods, it is said.

This conference is one of 70 similar ones held throughout Ohio between October 23 and November 3. Special efforts have been made to secure the attendance of not only pastors, Sunday school superintendents and teachers and church officers but of all who are interested in plans for a world in which peace and not war shall be supreme, Rev. Twining said.

MOTORISTS COMPLAIN OF STEEL ON HIGHWAY

Numerous complaints have been made to officials regarding steel shavings dropped from trucks hauling junk on the highways.

According to some of the motorists the steel spirals cut into auto and truck tires like so much glass and soon virtually ruin a tire.

It seems that steel shavings from industrial plants are being trucked to Columbus or other points, and through careless loading, some of the spirals of steel fall to the highway.

SHERIFF'S AUXILIARY

CIRCLEVILLE — The "disaster corps" of Pickaway County has been organized by Sheriff Charles Radcliffe to serve in any emergency. The action was taken at request of the Red Cross chapter.

20 INITIATED INTO EAGLES LODGE IN WCH

Francis Kennedy Wins Pie Eating Contest After Initiation

Whether or not the pie-eating contest was the climax of the last Eagle initiation of a class of 20 remains a question. However, the fact remains that Francis Marion Kennedy is immortalized as the man who can eat the most pumpkin pie in the least time.

The initiation honored Worthy President Harry R. Mack and FOE State President W. B. Hye, who spoke welcoming the candidates into the lodge and paying tribute to the degree team which conducted the impressive ceremony.

The degree team is R. Burris Sharp, president; Emmett Passmore, past worthy president; Wheeler T. Bay, vice president; H. E. Cook, chaplain; Paul Rumer, conductor; Percy Shaffer, inside guard and Harry W. Smith, outside guard.

The candidates initiated were: John W. Carpenter, Don Cox, W. J. Hilty, Henry B. Lightle, Benjamin F. Cash, Isaac B. Merriam, Roy Morris, Glen Orr, Cleman Edwards, Reuben Gordon, Charles Helmandollar, Harold Hamilton, William Dudley, Rendall J. Morton, Andrew L. Haynes, H. Russell Davis, Leroy Bennett, Dan P. Ford, Ernest Lynch and Paul P. Mohr.

Frank E. Boylan photographed the contestants in the pie-eating race at the smarest peak of their performance. Besides Kennedy, Harold Hamilton, Ben Wyatt and Benjamin Knapp placed in the contest.

MINISTERIAL GROUP IS TO MEET THURSDAY

The Fayette County Ministerial Association will meet at the First Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon, it was announced today.

Scheduled to follow the afternoon session of the peace conference, the meeting is the regular November meeting, originally set for Monday. Several important business questions are to be settled Thursday, it was said.

Buy War Stamps Every Pay Day.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

FAYETTE COUNTY BOYS IN SERVICE

Cpl. Herbert Holland has arrived safely overseas, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Kate Holland.

Pfc. Stanley Mark Jr. has arrived from Camp Cook, Calif. to spend a 10 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Mark, Sr., 905 Millwood Avenue.

Kenneth Riley, seaman second class, has arrived from Great Lakes, Ill. to spend a 9 day furlough with his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Riley, route 4, this city.

Mrs. O. T. Caplinger, 923 Clinton Avenue has received word her husband, Orville T. Caplinger, CM 1-c, navy sea bees has been transferred from Camp Park, Calif. to somewhere in the South Pacific.

Ensign Harris Willis, (EVG) left Monday for Norfolk, Va., having visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Willis, during the weekend. Willis was recently commissioned an ensign at the New York Midshipman School, Columbia University, where he received a degree in naval engineering.

MRS. KENNETH WALTERS' FUNERAL IS HELD MONDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Kenneth Walters were held Monday at 2 P. M. in the Cox and Parrett Funeral Home.

Rev. George B. Parkin, pastor

INSIGNIA MADE NEW DECORATION AT LEGION HOME

Full Set of Plaques Are on Walls of Recreation Room

Something new has been added to the American Legion Home.

The something new is 119 plaques, each with a different insignia of a division, corps, army or branch of service. The masonite 12 inch squares are hung on the walls of the recreation room in a checkerboard design.

The collection includes nearly all the authorized insignia to date and additions will be made as soon as the designs are authorized by the War and Navy departments.

A disabled World War I veteran makes the plaques which are on display in Legion homes throughout the nation. For the past 20 years he has been manufacturing the plaques of masonite. Colors are applied in auto enamel. Because of the painstaking careful manufacture, the Legion feels fortunate in being able to have a set now.

The insignia idea was developed in World War I and since then each member of a unit has worn the shoulder patch bearing a distinctive design. The collection here includes all of the first war emblems plus new ones added for the present war.

Legion members were busy Monday night mounting the plaques on the walls so they might be ready for the Tuesday family night event. Visitors will have an opportunity to find the insignia of divisions to which members of their families belong.

AT FIRST SIGN OF A
COLD
USE 666
Cold Preparations as directed

MONTGOMERY GOES TO STATE CONFAB

Extension Workers Meet for Week's Conference

W. W. Montgomery, county agent, today is at Ohio State University attending the Ohio Annual Conference of Agricultural Extension Workers.

The theme of the conference will be "The Agricultural Extension Program, Today and Tomorrow." The last session of the confab will be Friday afternoon. Among the speakers scheduled are Dr. O. B. Jessness, chief of the division of agricultural economics, University of Minnesota; Margaret Reid, professor of agricultural economics and rural social science, Iowa State College; J. C. Dykes, assistant chief of soil conservation service, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Marie Dye, dean of the division of home economics, Michigan State College; J. W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange and M. D. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and president of the Cooperative League of America.

It has been estimated that the greatest depth of any ocean is 35,400 feet.

THINK and VOTE!

THINK of the experience of other nations, who surrendered, one by one, their individual rights and privileges, and finally lost the last vestige of their freedom.

The record shows that only 62.5 percent of the qualified voters voted in 1940. If large numbers of our people decline to vote we do not have government of and by the people. The first duty of every patriotic citizen is to VOTE and do his utmost to assure good government.

TO CONTINUE GOOD GOVERNMENT IN OHIO ELECT A REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR AND GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Re-elect - - -

X W. S. PAXSON

Republican Candidate for State Representative
HE IS EXPERIENCED AND QUALIFIED

(Pol. Adv.)

REPUBLICAN RALLY

High School Auditorium

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3—8 P. M.

Three Outstanding Speakers

Madison County Women's Glee Club

Washington High School Band

Introduction of Fayette County Republican Candidates
COME AND HEAR THE ISSUES OF THIS CAMPAIGN

You Will Be Sorry If You Miss This Meeting

• Speakers •

Hon. Albertus Conn

Of Toledo, Ohio, Assistant Attorney General of Ohio. Mr. Conn is one of Ohio's leading colored lawyers and a fine public speaker.

Hon. Dean Stanley

Of Lebanon, Ohio, one of southern Ohio's most prominent and able attorneys. An orator whose reputation is known throughout the middle west.

Hon. Clarence J. Brown

Republican National Committeeman and candidate for Congressman — Seventh Ohio District.

EVERYBODY WELCOME — BRING YOUR NEIGHBORS AND HELP MAKE THIS A 'RIP-ROARING' MEETING

FAYETTE COUNTY REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
Roy Carr, Chairman.

(Pol. Adv.)

The Thrift 'E' Way Will Always Pay

Wheaties	The Breakfast Of Champions	pkg.	10c
Cookies	Cadet or Pathfinder	lb.	29c
Celery	Crisp Well Bleached Michigan	stalk	12 1/2c
Jowl Squares	Sugar Cured	lb.	21c
Round Steak	Grade AA Beef	lb.	44c
Oysters	Extra Selects	pt.	78c

Thrift 'E' Super Market

"Washington's Finest Food Mart"

KING-KASH OFFERS

Occasional Chairs
Rockers

Prices Begin at $8.95

—EASY TERMS

KING-KASH FURNITURE
NEXT TO STATE THEATRE

F-A-C-T-S

OUR SALES TO DATE THIS YEAR 81

FARM AND CITY PROPERTY

TO CONSIDER WHEN SELLING

F-A-C-T-S

- 1 THE BEST PLACE TO SELL IS WHERE MOST PROPERTY IS SOLD.
- 2 YOU ARE MORE LIKELY TO GET A FAIR PRICE IF YOU FIND THE RIGHT BUYER.
- 3 THE RIGHT BUYER IS MOST LIKELY TO BE FOUND WHERE MOST BUYERS AND SELLERS MEET.
- 4 YOU NEED A MAN FAMILIAR WITH YOUR TYPE PROPERTY TO MAKE A PROPER APPRAISAL.
- 5 AMONG OUR SALES FORCE ARE MEN CAPABLE OF APPRAISING ANY TYPE PROPERTY.

ACTION

SPEAKS LOUDER THAN

WORDS

You Will Like Our Service

We Will Appreciate Your Listings

MAC DEWS

Realtor

ROY PORTER

Salesmen

ROY WEST